One of the wittiest of recent definitions came from America:
"Internationalism: a movement to inter nationalisms"

A Scot who was somewhat shocked in discovering that his fellow workman carried his wife's false teeth in his pocket enquired the reason, and Sandy calmly replied
—"I have a suspicion that she eats between meals."

Burly ticket collector: "Tickets,
please."

Pompous business man: "My face is my ticket."

Collector (rolling up his sleeve):
"My orders are to punch all tickets."

Applicant for situation:—"I've come about that job you was advertised."

Employer:—"Well, and can you do the work?"

Applicant (up alarm):—"Work
why I thought it was a foreman
you wanted"

A farmer once asked the editor of a country paper for advice, as follows: "I have a horse that at times appears normal, but at other times is lame to an alarming degree. What shall I do?"

The reply came: "The next time
your horse appears normal, sell him."

The actress was hurrying home to luncheon deep in thought when her attention was attracted by a long row of cod in the fishmonger's window.

"Good gracious," she said as she looked at their flat, expressionless
heads and eyes, "that reminds me,
I have a matinee to-day."

"The University Correspondent"
gives the following example of unintended journalistic humour:

A Colonial Government official,
referring to a change that had been made, said "A gain in efficiency resulted."

His opponents were delighted to find him reported as having said,
"Again inefficiency resulted."

WELSH GOLD FOR ROYAL RING

Miners' Gift To The Duke And His Bride

Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-
Scott's wedding ring is to be made from gold mined in Wales.

As was the case at the wedding of the Duke of Kent, the gold will be a gift to the Duke of Gloucester and his bride from Welsh miners.

One ounce of gold is to be sent to London for the ring, which will be made by craftsmen in the West End.

It was revealed yesterday that the Duke and Lady Alice visited Boughton House, Northants, during the week-end.

They examined the stables and viewed the lovely house where they will spend the first part of their honeymoon.

The King has expressed the wish that all schoolchildren should be given a full day's holiday on November 6—the day of the royal wedding.

ROYAL WEDDING ADDRESS

London Citizens' Gifts

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

The Court of Common Council decided yesterday to present an address and a wedding present to the Duke of Gloucester and Lady
Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott.
The Lord Mayor presided. The Chief Commoner (Mr. A. S. Jun-per) said that the connection between the Royal Family and the citizens of London had always been close and intimate. That appreciation had been increased and strengthened during the long and trying period which both
Sovereign and people had gone through together. The Duke of Gloucester was a fellow citizen.
They remembered his work as the representative of the King on several occasions, particularly his memorable visit to Australia, New Zealand, Ceylon, Jamaica, and other parts of his Majesty's Dominions, at the conclusion of which he was received in Guildhall and presented with an address of welcome home.

The news of the betrothal of the Duke of Gloucester gave the citizens of London great pleasure, and they, in common with all his Majesty's subjects, wished his Royal Highness and Lady Alice Scott all possible happiness. Their future would be followed with the kindest interest by the citizens.

He moved, "That an address of congratulation with a suitable wedding present be presented to
H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester,
K.G., and the Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott on the occasion of their marriage; and that it be referred to the City Lands Committee to give directions for the provision of the present."

Sir Vansittart Bowater, M.P.,
seconded the motion, which was carried by acclamation.

Sitting in private the Court approved of the terms of the address.

The Court voted £500 towards the centenary appeal of the Opharing Cross Hospital Medical School,
£100 for King Edward's Hospital
Fund for London; £100 towards the cost of the repairs of the vicarage of All Saints, Stoke Newington; £500 for Poor Widows of Freeman; and £100 for the distribution of the Salvation Army for soup in the poorest parts of London.

Mr. Arthur E. Field was appointed Clerk of the Court.

ROYAL

The World's Finest Tires

Extra mileage, extra safety and extra value—you could not ask more of a tire than these. They represent all that a tire can give —and account for the leadership of ROYALS in every corner of the world.

- 1. MILEAGE.... Think of how tempered steel compares with ordinary steel—and then you will understand the advantage of "Tempered Rubber" over ordinary Rubber. It is this tough, specially compounded rubber in the tread, and the extra thickness of the tread, that keeps ROYALS on the wheels of your car thousands of miles after ordinary tires would be worn out and thrown away.
- 2. SAFETY.... The makers of ROYALS have worked hard to help reduce accidents caused by skidding and blow-outs. The massive blocks that make up the ROYAL tread have the same sure grip on the road as cogs on a cog-wheel. And beneath the tread—right through to the heart of the tire—strong cotton cords and rubber are combined in an exclusive manner that makes blow-outs almost impossible.
- 3. EXTRA VALUES.... Unless you have driven on ROYALS these "extra values" may come as a surprise. You will find that ROYAL tires are so good looking they improve the appearance of your car. And perhaps more important—they give such excellent service that you can be proud to tell your friends, "I always drive on ROYALS."

Ask for "ROYALS" the next time you buy.

Should Women dread the approach of a perfectly natural event?

NATURE never intended you to suffer unduly. Why is it then that so many thousands of women experience such pain and weakness.

Simply because there is a shortage of vital minerals in the body.

That is the reply, supported by the best medical opinion. Calcium is the vital food of every body cell, and any shortage hinders the correct performance of all bodily functions, particularly those of women.

The use of Kalzana, the mineral food, for a few weeks provides the whole system with the indispensable minerals needed to establish that care-free, vigorous health that Nature intended you to enjoy.

But it must be Kalzana, as only in this scientific form (a combination of sodium-lactate and calcium-lactate) will the mineral salts be taken up and retained by your body.

Lose your dread—re-establish the functions on a normal basis by starting a course of Kalzana today.

NO DEPRESSION IN PALESTINE

Revenue Risen By Leaps And Bounds

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 18. A striking story of the development of Palestine is told in the report of the British Commercial Agent at Haifa. Imports, exports and revenue have all risen by leaps and bounds. In 1934 all three were from twice to two and a half times as high as they were in 1931. The Government had a realised surplus of £5,587,837. What country would not be proud of such a recovery from the depression? Within the same period the town of Tel-Aviv, which stands near Jaffa, on a site where 25 years ago there was not a single house, increased its population from 40,000 to 120,000. This indicates one of the great causes of the expansion of trade—the recent flow of immigration, which is likely to show a further increase in the present year.

IMMIGRATION

Over the proper amount of such immigration there has been much dispute. The Arabs complain that it is excessive; the Jews argue that the quota is unwisely low. To adjust it to "the economic absorptive capacity of Palestine" is the principle of the Government's policy, and the general economic results have clearly been good. Immigrants have brought not only labour but capital, and so produced an extraordinary balance of trade. Imports last year were £15,150,000, exports £3,220,000. This is not to be regarded as undesirable. The adverse balance of £12,000,000 is actually accounted for by expenditure on capital goods and investment in agriculture on behalf of the Jewish immigrants, compelled to transfer their resources and energies to Palestine. The establishment there "of a national home for the Jewish people" which Lord Balfour proclaimed in 1917 is being aided by causes then unforeseen. It behoves our industries to adjust their plans to this swift development. British goods imported by Palestine, though increased in the last three years, have never yet been quite one-fifth of the total. Other nations are energetically exploiting the market.

OUR BOOK SHELF

Latest Literary Intelligence

"PLUMER OF MESSINES" by General Sir Charles Harrington G.C.B., G.B.E., with a Foreword by the Archbishop of Canterbury, is to be published by John Murray on Oct. 15. The author was Lord Plumer's aide-de-camp and staff of the Second Army and he gives a particularly intimate account of the great General, and describes the progress of his career with remarkable insight. He enters into no controversy over the Passchendaele Campaign of 1917, but, with unequalled knowledge of the facts, he tells the story of the Second Army and, in so doing, refutes the easy censure of post-war critics of the campaign.

Richard Barham in the Ingoldsby Legends says that Lady Elizabeth Hatton, grand-daughter of Queen Elizabeth's Lord Treasurer Burghley, was in league with the devil who at last demanded his usual fee for his services and carried her off with thunder and lightning from a party at Hatton House, Holborn, and that her bleeding heart was later found in the yard that now bears this name. Having the aid of the devil or not, she was remarkably spirited in a spirited age and all that she did was original and entertaining. Her sprightly story told by Laura Nornworthy is to be published by John Murray on October 18th with the title "THE LADY OF BLEEDING HEART YARD".

An exceedingly amusing and informative travel book which should attract great interest is "CASTILLIAN OCHRE" by Richard and Phyllis Pearsall, which John Murray is to publish on October 15th. The authors, who are well-known black and white artists, have embellished the delicious account of their wanderings in Spain with many amusing pictures in the text, and have produced a volume unique among travel books.

POSTAL ORDERS IN BOOKS

Handy And Cheaper

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 18. Books of postal orders are to be on sale from November 1. They will be available at practically all post offices in the United Kingdom.

The books—analogs to the books of postage stamps—will contain 12 postal orders of one value only, either 5d, 1s, 1s 6d, or 2s 6d. In addition there will be a book containing postal orders of varying amounts, comprising three postal orders at 6d each three at 1s each, three at 2s each, and three at 2s 6d each. Each book will bear a distinctive colour.

The poundage on the 12 postal orders in each book will be 9d instead of 1s, which is the poundage on 12 separate postal orders of 2s 6d or less in value.

From now onward all postal orders will be valid for six months instead of three months. Hitherto if a postal order was not cashed within three months from the last day of the month of issue extra poundage equal to the amount of the original poundage was charged, but under the new arrangement no extra poundage will be charged on postal orders presented for payment within six months from the last day of the month of issue.

The Postmaster-General has introduced books of postal orders in response to many requests from the public, and Major Tryon hopes that with the reduction in poundage and the extension of the period of validity the new facilities will prove attractive, especially to those who live in country districts some distance from a post office.

NATIONAL UNITY URGED

Conciliatory Attitude Shown

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Shanghai, Nov. 1. Now that the Central Government has once more shown its conciliatory attitude by the decision to send two influential good-will envoys to South China, high hopes were expressed in to-day's editorial in the "Chen Pao" that the Southwest leaders would reciprocate patriotically for the sake of national unity.

The editorial opens with an expression of gratification that General Yen Hsi-Shan, Pacification Commissioner for Shansi, has taken the commendable lead by making his personal presence in the capital to participate in the Sixth Plenary Session of the Central Executive Committee.

It adds that reliable reports have reached Shanghai of General Feng Yu-Hsiang, former commander of the Kuomintang, definitely deciding to come to Nanking. Both Generals Yen and Feng, the editorial points out, have at previous different occasions been in disagreement with the Central authorities over certain Government policies, yet to-day, realizing the urgent necessity of sinking their personal differences in order to present a united front, have openly voiced their co-operation with the Central authorities.

THE ONLY PROBLEM

The Southwest now remains the only problem. However, it has been confirmed that the Central Government has decided to commission President Tai Chi-Tao of the Examination Yuan and Mayor Ma Chao-Chun of Nanking to Canton as emissaries, and in the opinion of the Chen Pao, these two gentlemen who have had immense influence among the Southwest leaders should be able to pave the way for an amicable settlement of all existing differences between Nanking and the Southwest.

From the standpoint of the people, the editorial emphasizes, national unity has already become a reality. The only cleavage lies in the differences of a few political leaders, and what is more, the main underlying reason lies in their personal feelings.

Take the example of foreign affairs, the editorial says, and one finds that the Southwest leaders have been consistently harping on the same point of the Central Government's failure to resist successfully alien aggression. But the fact is, that there are two practical difficulties which make it impossible for China to adopt a policy

JAPAN DEMANDS EQUALITY AT SEA

Refuses To Disclose Building Plans

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 18. A certain "adjustment of viewpoints" seems to have occurred in Tokyo among the departments concerned in the proposed naval limitation conference. The Japanese reply to the British inquiry was received in London to-day, and it is understood that it is definitely less uncompromising than some earlier communications. Japan does not abandon her demand for nominal equality at sea with Britain and the United States, but requires that her right to such equality, should she desire to exercise it, shall be admitted.

Her new formula is really based on the "escalator clause" of the London Treaty. By this if Britain found that her sea security was affected by new building plans of other Powers she had the right to increase her total tonnage above the figures in the treaty after notice to the other signatories. Japan's proposal amounts to a claim for "parity of security" rather than parity in tonnage.

A CONCESSION

The Japanese objection to the disclosure of building plans is, reaffirmed, but is obviously intended to be modified by the new formula. In other words, Japan will disclose her naval programmes provided they are not regarded as rigid and unalterable over a period of years. This modification of the earlier attitude represents concessions by the militarist element in Japanese governing quarters and makes the prospects of a limitation conference rather brighter than they have been.

There is still considerable doubt, however, whether a conference could come to any agreement. The mental attitude of the world has changed since 1921. War-weariness has passed, and nations which were willing to make big concessions then have swung round to the opinion that they gave away too much. This is a factor which has been noticeable in all the negotiations this year.

MASONIC INSTALLATION

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 18. The annual installation meeting of the "Rifle" Royal Arch Chapter, No. 513, was held last night in the Chapel of Saint Andrew, 78, Queen Street, Edinburgh, when Companion Robert A. Haywood was installed as First Principal, the ceremony being carried out by Companion D. Lowe Turnhill, Past Deputy First Grand Principal.

The other office-bearers for the ensuing session are:—Companions J. C. Currie, Second Principal; W. Welch Brown, Third Principal; Arthur Dutch, Immediate Past First Principal; William G. Fenculhet, P.Z., Deputy Principal; P. E. Brown, Scribe E. J. T. Melkie, Scribe N.; A. L. Anderson, P.Z., Treasurer; H. C. W. Hepburn, Chancellor; John P. Smith, P.Z., Superintendent of Works; R. W. Mackenzie, First Sojourner; H. Laird, Second Sojourner; J. T. S. Melkie, Third Sojourner; A. R. G. Boak, Steward; and A. A. Thomson, Janitor.

of armed resistance. First, China is not in a position to offer any effective resistance, and second, any effective resistance against alien aggression must have national unity as a necessary factor.

GAP WIDE APART

Such criticism from afar without leaving ground for mutual discussion would only cause the gap to remain wide apart. For the sake of national unity, the editorial opines, it is necessary that the minority, however valuable their opinions may seem in their own eyes, should sacrifice their ideas to follow the majority.

In any modern nation, the editorial says, there can never be unanimity in opinions on certain Government policies. Divergence of opinions among the leaders is not a national ailment, if the minority party sees the way of subjecting their opinions to discussion among a wider circle.

At this juncture of national crisis, and when the National Government has seen the wisdom of sending two good-will envoys to the Southwest to sound their opinions, the editorial expresses the hope that the Southwest will see a way to sink their differences in the common cause of national unity and co-operation.

And How The Menfolk Usually Like It

WITH RABBIT

Now there's an "R" in the month, that old favourite rabbit pie will prove a welcome change. The menfolk usually like it cold.

To prepare this savoury dish, wash the rabbit, divide it into small joints and arrange in a greased pie dish with a few small pieces of pork. Season, then half fill the dish with seasoned stock in which 1oz. of gelatine has been dissolved.

Slices of hard boiled egg and one or two small forcemeat balls will greatly improve the flavour, but are unnecessary.

Cover with rough puff pastry and bake in a fairly hot oven for 5 minutes, then moderate to slow for 1 1/2 hours.

FAMILY DISH

Or, it may be you want something hot for a hungry family. Rabbit pudding is made as follows. Wash and joint rabbit into small joints, not using the head. Line a greased pudding basin with suet crust and arrange the pieces of rabbit inside.

Season, add a sliced onion and a little stock or a meat cube dissolved in a cupful of water.

Cover with a lid of suet crust. Tie down with a scalded and floured cloth, and boil for two to three hours.

Stew the head for gravy, strain thickened liquor and serve with the pudding.

CABBAGE PUDDING

- 3 large cabbages
- 1 1/2 ounces of butter
- 2 1/2 ounces of grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 eggs

Boil the cabbages. Blanch them with cold water and separate the leaves. Coat a mild with butter and line it with cabbage leaves. Then place in it a layer of the mixture given below. One layer of the cabbage leaves. Repeat until all the material has been used. (The top layer should be leaves). Boil for three-quarters of an hour in a double-boiler. Mixture: Cream the butter and egg yolk. Add the cheese and the stiffly whisked whites of the eggs.

LAMB HOT-POT FOR TWO

For two people, three-quarters of a pound of neck of lamb should be divided into chops. Skin and slice half a pound of tomatoes and half a pound of new potatoes. Cover the bottom of an oval casserole with the potatoes, season with pepper, salt, and a little chopped onion, and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Put the chops on top, season in the same way, cover with the tomatoes, and season them. Pour over half a cup of gravy, stock, or water to which a tablespoonful of tomato sauce has been added, and cook slowly for an hour and a half.

VEAL AND MACARONI

Boil four ounces of macaroni for twenty minutes. In the meantime mince half a pound of veal, and mix with it two tablespoonfuls of minced ham, and the same of bread crumbs. Season well, and bind with an egg and a little stock. Line a small greased mould with the macaroni, put in the meat, cover with greased paper and a cloth, and steam for

WHAT YOU MAY DO WITH POTATOES

LAMB FR. CASSEE IN POTATO BORDER

- 2 pounds breast of lamb
- 6 cups boiling water
- 4 small onions
- 4 small carrots
- 2 white turnips, quartered
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 cup cold water

Cut lamb into small pieces, place in kettle, add water and cook slowly until tender, about 2 hours. Prepare vegetables and put them in the kettle with the meat after it has cooked for 1 hour. Add salt and pepper, and continue to cook until meat and vegetables are tender. Lift meat and vegetables to serving platter. Make a paste of the flour and cold water, add it to the stock and cook until thickened, about 5 minutes. Pour it over meat and vegetables on platter.

POTATO BORDER

- 6 Medium potatoes
 - 1 cup milk
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - Salt and pepper
 - 1 tablespoon parsley, chopped
- Pare potatoes and cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Put potatoes through ricer or mash thoroughly, add milk, butter, salt and pepper and beat until fluffy. Arrange in fluffy border around meat and vegetables and sprinkle with chopped parsley. This makes 6 portions.

POTATO SALAD

A cheap tin of herrings (not in tomato sauce) will make an excellent salad, or hors d'oeuvre when combined with cold boiled potato and mayonnaise.

Remove skin and bones and separate the fish into meat pieces and mask in salad cream or mayonnaise. Cut up the potatoes and press them in oil and vinegar, seasoning them rather highly with pepper, and arrange them round the fish.

INDIGESTION

Sufferers from chronic indigestion should take the white of an egg, beaten to a stiff froth and stirred into a wineglassful of water, after every meal.

HADDOCK DINNER

- 2 pounds haddock
- 3 cups boiling water
- 1 cup cracker crumbs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 cup canned tomatoes
- 1 cup American cheese, grated

Wash haddock, and put in kettle, add boiling water. Cook slowly 10 minutes. Drain. Remove skin and bones from haddock and flake. Arrange a thin layer of flaked haddock in bottom of casserole and cover with a thin layer of crumbs. Alternate layers of haddock and crumbs until all is used, seasoning each layer. Place butter in small pieces on top. Combine evaporated milk, water and tomatoes, and add. Sprinkle grated cheese on top. Cover casserole and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Uncover during last 10 minutes. This makes 6 portions.

Sweet Potatoes

Perhaps you'll want to serve sweet potatoes and here are some recipes that are especially good.

CASSEROLE OF SWEET POTATOES AND APPLE

Boil 6 large sweet potatoes, peel and slice. Pare 4 apples and slice. Arrange a layer of potatoes at the bottom of a greased casserole. Over these a layer of apple. Dot with butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and a dash of cinnamon. Continue until the casserole is filled, giving each layer its covering of brown sugar, butter and cinnamon. Mix one-half cup of hot water with one-half cup of maple syrup and pour over the apples and potatoes. Bake in a moderate oven until the syrup is thick and the apples are tender.

SWEET POTATO FLUFF

- 3 cups mashed potato
- Salt and pepper
- 2 tsp. butter
- 2 tsp. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. sherry
- 3 eggs

Boil about 2 pounds of sweet potatoes until tender. Peel and mash. Season with salt and pepper to taste; add fat, sugar, sherry and beaten egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into the potato mixture. Turn into greased baking dish, place in a pan of water and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes, or until puffy and brown on top.

SWEET POTATO SURPRISE

- 2 cups sliced sweet potatoes
- 1 beaten
- Dash of Pepper
- 8 marshmallows
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 cup crushed cornflakes

Boil and peel potatoes, put through ricer. When partly cool add egg, salt and pepper. If mixture is too dry add a little milk. Form in 8 round balls with marshmallows hidden in cornflakes. Fry in hot fat until brown and drain on soft paper.

BAKED ONIONS

- 18 medium size dry onions
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. pepper
- 2 cups seasoned white sauce
- 1 cup packaged grated American cheese
- 2 tsp. butter

Peel the onions deep to remove all the tough outside portions. Drop into salted boiling water and cook until tender. Arrange the onions in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and pour over the lemon juice. Add the cream sauce and sprinkle evenly with the grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes. Serve in the dish in which it was baked. Just before serving add the butter.

GIRDLE SCONES

Mix half an ounce of butter into a breakfastful of flour. Add a tablespoonful of sugar, a pinch of salt, half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, and half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Mix well, then stir in a beaten egg and enough milk to make a soft dough which will just drop from a spoon. Heat a griddle, trying pan, or hot plate, and rub it over with a piece of lard or suet. Drop a spoonful of the dough on to the griddle and let it cook until the under-side is brown and bubbles appear on the top. Turn over and cook the other side. Two or three scones can be cooked at once, and the griddle should be greased again before another batch is baked.

TO-DAY In Every City on THE GLOBE

Some are enjoying perfect health—others are in hospitals fighting for life. Millions start off in the morning feeling fit and bright but without the slightest warning there comes an attack of pain in the form of Headaches, Neuralgia, Nerviness, etc. Cold and 'Flu' infection is as sudden as an accident. For these ailments the popular world-wide medicine is 'ASPRO'. Its success is due to relief results that are quickly proved, and the fact that 'ASPRO' is safe, because it does not harm the heart or have any injurious after-effects. DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 3 squares bitter chocolate
- 1 cup soured cream
- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup hot water
- 2 eggs
- 2 cups flour
- 1 heaping tsp. soda

Dissolve chocolate in hot water. Cream butter and sugar. Add beaten egg yolks. Dissolve soda in a little milk and thin the cream. Combine all mixtures and let stand for 3 minutes before mixing in the sifted flour. Bake in a shallow pan in moderate oven 40 minutes.

CABBAGE ROLLS

- 1 head cabbage
- 4 cups boiling water
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 small green pepper, chopped
- 5 tablespoons fat
- 1 pound chopped beef
- 1/2 cups bread or cracker crumbs
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg, slightly beaten

Cut around stem end of cabbage to loosen 18 leaves. Parboil leaves and center head of cabbage in boiling water 10 minutes. Drain and dry leaves carefully. Chop cabbage center and reserve for stuffing. Save 1 cup cabbage water. Sauté onion and green pepper in 2 tablespoons of the fat and add meat, crumbs, 1/2 cup of the reserved cabbage water, salt and pepper. Cook for a few minutes and blend well. Remove from stove, stir in chopped center cabbage and egg.

Divide mixture into 8 parts and use 2 leaves for each roll. Place 1 part filling in 2 overlapping leaves; wrap leaves tightly around filling, and tie securely with string. Repeat until 8 rolls have been made. Brown rolls on all sides in the remaining fat in large frying pan. Add the remaining 1/2 cup cabbage water and cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Remove string from rolls and serve. This makes 4 portions of 2 rolls each.

During these warm days try an all-white scheme of flowers in your rooms.

You will be surprised and charmed at the fresh and cool appearance they produce.

TO AND FRO BY AIR

Schoolboy Makes Trip To London

In the safety of the wings of the PH-AKI "Lapwing", and the very good care of Commander Frijns, a 14-year old schoolboy, J. Morey, flew last week from Singapore to London, arriving home on the 23rd September. He had been to visit his parents out East during the holidays, returning to his school in England by air, enthusing about the marvellous adventure of such a journey.

This shows a new opening, created by aviation. Since the K.L.M. fly in 3 1/2 days from Amsterdam to Batavia, in 5 days from London to Calcutta, and in six days from London to Singapore, it is quite feasible for children to spend their holidays with their people out East, even though school and home are at a distance of almost half the world's circumference. The only difficulty at present for most people is the expense.

John Morey is not the youngest passenger to have travelled on the K.L.M.-India line. Last June a 13-year old schoolboy, son of the Netherlands Ambassador in Egypt, flew from Amsterdam to Cairo, and in July a baby of only a few months, daughter of the K.L.M.-hotel manager at Djask, flew all the way from Iran to Holland.

"WAR PERIL" TO CHINESE ART

Boston May Not Send Treasures To R.A.

(Special Air Mail Service) London, Oct. 17.

The organisers of the Chinese Art Exhibition, which will open next month at the Royal Academy, are anxiously awaiting the decision of Boston Fine Arts Museum whether their important contribution of art treasures will be allowed to brave the "war submarine dangers" in Europe. The consignment was to have sailed soon, accompanied by special representatives and guardians from the museum.

But the political situation in Europe has alarmed the Boston Museum trustees. To-morrow they will hold a special meeting to decide whether or not the loan should be cancelled.

The "torpedoing of the ship by one or another of the belligerent nations of Europe" is feared. The Academy authorities have sent to Boston assurances of the safety of the seas.

The Boston trustees have promised to cable to the Academy as soon as a decision is reached. Other American loans, from both public and private sources, including Kansas, Pennsylvania and New York, have already arrived at Burlington House.

GIANT BUDDHA

Meanwhile the Academy is faced with another weighty problem. The heaviest and biggest object ever to be exhibited at Burlington House has arrived—from America. It is a stone Buddha, 20ft high and weighing 20 tons.

It is in three sections, but, despite this, it has been found very difficult to move. The crane which was used at first was found to be incapable of lifting even a single section. Officials are also doubtful of the capacity and power of the Academy lifts.

One of the biggest exhibits seen at the Academy recently was Sir Edwin Lutyens' model of the Liverpool Roman Catholic Cathedral. This, however, was completely dwarfed by the Buddha.

The figure will be placed eventually in the central chamber where it will be surrounded by the loans of the King and Queen.

Workmen are busy shoring up the floor of the central chamber to support the tremendous load. They are expected to take nearly a week over the task, as the floor needs extensive strengthening to stand the strain.

FLIGHT HELD UP

Kingsford-Smith's
Plan Delayed

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith is to change the engine of his American monoplane "Lady Southern Cross" before attempting his record flight to Australia.

If this is done, he will probably be granted a Certificate of Airworthiness based on the normal load of 520lb. This will give him a range of about 1200 miles and the six special fuel tanks built in the monoplane wing will have to be sealed empty.

With this range, he will have to fly by stages not exceeding 900 to 1000 miles and his course would include stops at Rome, Athens, Baghdad, with one halt before Karachi could be reached.

Cables have passed between Whitehall and Washington to find out if the American authorities would take the responsibility of issuing a certificate which would enable the machine to take off loaded with petrol for a range of 3000 miles.

Kingsford-Smith requires this range if he is to attempt to beat the record set up by Scott and Campbell-Black in a British machine in the Australia Air Race. Replies from America, I understand, have been received to the effect that while they are prepared to recommend that the airman be allowed to load his machine to this range, they are not prepared to say that the monoplane will be worthy.

AN HISTORIC CAR

In Hollywood there is a racing car built in 1915 that still chips off 130 miles an hour. It is one of the cars used in filming the First National Picture "Red Hot Tires" closing to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

It is owned by Art Klein, head of the transportation department at Warner Bros. Klein was a racing driver from 1907 to 1922, held the dirt track championship for four years 1914 to 1917, when he entered the United States Army Air Service and went to France. During the war he learned that construction has been started in 1915 on a special model Peugeot racing car for Andre Bollet, French racing idol, but that building of the car had ceased at the untimely death of the latter when he was shot down as an air pilot.

After the signing of the Armistice Klein purchased the car. He has since then kept the car in such conditions that it is still capable of leaving late model racing cars in the rear. In "Red Hot Tires" the historic car is driven by Lyle Talbot and was clocked officially with a speed of 130 miles per hour. The picture is a stirring romance of the auto race tracks by Tristram Tupper. The all star cast includes Mary Astor, Roscoe Karns, Frankie Darro and Gavin Gordon.

RADIO NIGHT CLUB AND MUSICAL

Three kinds of entertainment radio, night club and musical comedy-highlight the plot of RKO Radio's "Hooray for Love," which features Gene Raymond and Ann Southern, showing on Sunday at the King's Theatre.

In her role of a musical comedy favourite, Ann Southern broadcasts from a metropolitan radio station, stages a spectacular number in a smart club and sings her way to fame in a Broadway show.

In his role of a young college man with an ambition to become a theatrical producer, Gene Raymond presents a four-act revue which includes a beautiful ballet, a hilarious black and tan number and a double piano act. A chorus of beautiful girls is used in the "Hooray for Love" finale.

Pert Kelton, comedienne, returns to the screen after several months of vaudeville, and is seen in a part particularly fitted to her inimitable style. She also sings on the screen for the first time. The picture's song numbers include "You're An Angel," "I'm in Love All Over Again," "Palsy Walsy," "I'm Livin' in a Great Big Way" and "Hooray for Love."

Others in the cast include Thornton Hall, Georgia Caine, Bill Robinson, world's greatest coloured tap dancer, Jenni LeGon, septa song, and dance artist, and Maria Gambarelli, internationally famous ballerina.

"WINGS OVER ETHIOPIA"

Timely And Topical
Film at the Queen's

A stirring and impressive drama, that has already had a successful run in Basel, Switzerland and has passed its 8th sensational week at the Rialto Theatre, London, "Wings Over Ethiopia" released by Paramount, has been booked by Mr. J. E. Noronha, the popular manager of the Queen's Theatre, to be screened at the Queen's, opening tomorrow.

A timely and authentic film, "Wings Over Ethiopia" is a presentation of absorbing interest, exciting episodes and amazing revelations of a country whose name is on everyone's lips, but about which few people knew little actual facts. The first full-length picture revealing the inside of this unusual African kingdom was made by a small but fearless expedition of three, L. Wechsler, a Swiss, Berne, a cameraman and, Walter Mittelholzer, noted Swiss pilot, who made the first plane trip to Haile Selassie's kingdom by the way of the Sudan and gathered a complete picture of Ethiopian life, customs and country from north to south.

THE EMPEROR SELASSIE

Emperor Selassie, colourful personage and powerful ruler of the ancient nation, figures prominently in the film, taking the spotlight in the scenes of Addis Ababa, and reveals himself in an exclusive sound recorded interview as a charming, intelligent man, combining rare properties, tolerance and understanding. This mighty man, is seen welcoming visitors to his country, reviewing his army in full regalia, acting as host in his strangely modern, but ancient palace, where intimate glimpses of his daughters are caught as they stroll through the beautifully tended gardens. Selassie's son also appears in several scenes.

RED HOT TIRES

At The Queen's

Motorists and the general public alike will delight in the picture "Red Hot Tires" now showing at the Queen's Theatre.

The picture is one sequence of thrills and in it is interwoven a real hot romance. Thrilling automobile races are well and truly depicted and will leave the fans gasping in astonishment by its snort thrills.

Full of action from start to finish in which, after several smashes, the climax is shown when the hero wins a spectacular race by a hair, with his sweet-heart riding with him as his mechanic.

The picture is not only one of thrills. In it is also shown a court trial in which the hero is convicted of wrecking the car of his rival driver who incidentally is also the rival to the fair one. The hero breaks jail and then follows an intense man hunt.

Lyle Talbot, as the crack racing driver is superb, while Mary Astor in the leading feminine role, that of a car designer and a follower of the track enhanced her reputation as a first rate screen actress by her performance.

WEALTH OF FUN AND FOOLING

Bevies Of British Beauties

Final proof—if any be needed that British films can claim equal status with Hollywood's best, is to be found in the triumph of Jack Buchanan's "Brewster's Millions," now at the King's Theatre. For the first time Elstree has produced a super-musical which in every respect reaches the very high standard set by producers like Samuel Goldwyn. No previous British musical has had such catchy tunes, such lovely girls, and such a succession of riotously funny episodes.

Jack Buchanan is at his best, and Jack's best is good enough for anybody. In his own charming way he sings, acts, dances, indulges in slapstick, burlesques Bing Crosby, and supplies the hind part of a carnival dragon!

The picture is based on the famous old stage farce of the same title, and with suitable adaptation for screen purposes it tells how Jack Brewster (Jack Buchanan) has to get rid of a $250,000 fortune in six months in order to inherit one of £5,000,000. That means spending the stuff at the rate of £150 an hour for twenty-four hours a day! Of course, Jack succeeds, but it is a close thing; for most of the time everything he touches turns to gold, including dud stage shows, dud shares and a dud Derby outsider.

Scenes range from Epsom Downs to the Market square at Ajaccio and from a Bloomsbury boarding house to the bridge of a 1,500 ton luxury yacht. All provide excellent backgrounds for Buchanan's fooling.

Lili Damita is his leading lady and sweet little Nancy O'Neill the heroine he marries in the end. The supporting cast includes Jean Gillie, Ian Maclean and Sydney Fairbrother, and a riot of lovely femininity.

Thornton Freeland, the American director of "Whoopee" and "Flying Down to Rio," has made an excellent job of the direction, but most of the praise for "Brewster's Millions" should be given to Jack Buchanan.

LILI DAMITA'S FIRST BRITISH TALKIE

"Brewster's Millions," starring Jack Buchanan, which is at the King's Theatre now, is notable for two reasons. It is Lili Damita's first British talkie and it is Thornton Freeland's first direction on this side of the Atlantic.

In the silent days Lili Damita, most cosmopolitan of stars, made films in Germany, America and England. Two of her biggest successes in this country were "The Queen was in the Parlor" and "The Butterfly on the Wheel." In "Brewster's Millions," probably the most spectacular production in which she has yet appeared, she plays the colourful part of Jack Buchanan's chorus-girl friend, Rosalie.

Thornton Freeland, a clever young American, is best remembered for his direction of "Whoopee" and "Flying Down to Rio," two of Hollywood's biggest musical successes. He has been directing for five years, after going through every other department of the film business.

Others in the cast which make up this excellent entertainment are Frankie Darro, Roscoe Karns and Gavin Gordon.—O

MILLIONS SPENT TO GET MORE

Good Entertainment At King's

Film geeks who have a liking for Jack Buchanan should not miss "Brewster's Millions," the British production with that star in the leading role, which opened its season at the King's Theatre yesterday.

The story of the film is on the whole very weak, but it presents good entertainment, with Buchanan and Lili Damita, who play opposite each other, singing and dancing as good as ever before. The comedy produced by Buchanan is certain to delight his followers, as in "Brewster's Millions," it is generally agreed that he is at his best.

Buchanan plays the part of a young man who is forced to spend half a million in six months in order to inherit millions.

The film is a musical comedy. Four new song hits are tendered smartly by the leading players, while there are also some lavish scenes.

Preceding the feature picture is shown a Mickey Mouse "short" entitled "Two-Gun Mickey." With this additional entertainment and a first class film, a visit to King's Theatre is recommended.—A.R.M.

"FLYING FLEA" A CHEAP PLANE

Young Men's Ambition Gratified

The ambition of many a young man—and woman—to fly, and to do so "without" spending much money, seems likely to be gratified by the advent of M. Henri Mignet's "Pou du Ciel" which has been translated into the English "Flying Flea."

M. Mignet has arrived in England to demonstrate what his little machine can do. He built it himself for about £70 after four years' hard work. In a radio talk he told how he and his wife lived alone in the middle of a wood in France for two years trying out his little plane; altering, learning by minor crashes, altering and trying again. Till at last came the great day when he went up 1,000 feet and essayed his first turn, and found that his "Pou" turned and banked to perfection. There are now some 400 of them built or being built in France and a number in Great Britain.

WHAT IT MEANS

The "Flying Flea" is not mean, as a cheap substitute for a fast airplane. It is meant to give the joy of flying to many who could not otherwise hope to fly their own machines. So, as M. Mignet said, he made up his mind to break away from many preconceived ideas. He wanted something safe that would be unable to get into a spin. So he did away with ailerons, bent the ends of the wings upwards, and for slow flying with safety, he gave it a very large rudder.

Though built as a biplane the lower wing is close to the upper one and its leading edge underlaps the rear edge of the upper by a few inches only. Immediately behind the lower wing is the rudder, so that there is no tail. With a 20 h.p. engine the Flea can fly at 60 m.p.h. and climb to 8,000 feet and, as it weighs only 250 pounds, one man can push it about on the ground with ease. If the engine stops it can be brought down like a parachute. M. Mignet's first demonstration aroused great enthusiasm.

Cheap at Half

"What am I offered?" yelled the auctioneer.

"Two shillings" piped the smallest of the audience of three. "What!" roared the auctioneer, his face contorted with fury and derision. "Did I hear you correctly? I put up a solid vulcanite, self-filling, non-dropping, goldnibbed fountain-pen, personally and positively guaranteed by me, and you offer me two shillings!"

The "little man" scratched his bald head. "Well, I don't really want it, you see, I'm—sorry." "Sold," boomed the auctioneer. "Step up this way, sir. Take two shillings from the gentleman, all."

THE DEVIL IS A WOMAN

Her Heart To None

"The Devil is a Woman" the story of a woman who gave her lips to many men but her heart to none, is the new Marlene Dietrich starring picture coming soon to the Queen's Theatre. Produced by Paramount and directed by Joseph Von Sternberg, the picture features Lionel Atwill and Cesar Romero as Miss Dietrich's rival lovers. Atwill as a Spanish captain whose career has been ruined by his love for Miss Dietrich attempts to dissuade his young friend Romero, from falling into her net. But the wilful boy and the unhappy man clash and meet in a duel. In a gripping climax the heartless siren suddenly learns the meaning of love and turns to the man who had suffered most for her.

The picture set in the colour and grandeur of Spain, has a beautiful and colourful carnival scene for its highspot. Songs by Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin, authors of "Love in Bloom" and other recent hits, are sung by Miss Dietrich in "The Woman is a Devil."

Prominent in the cast are Edward Everett Horton, Allison Skipworth and Don Alvarado.

CHINA PLAYERS IN FILM

Messrs. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer soon will present locally the "Big Broadcast of 1936," one of the outstanding musicals of the season. The picture possesses unique local interest in that two former China girls are in the cast, notably Wendy Barrie (daughter of our eminent barrister-at-law, Mr. F. C. Jenkin, K.C.) and Lydia Robert. The latter, it will be recalled, graced Shanghai cabaret floors with her sister, one of the most popular couples to dance there, a number of years ago. Wendy Barrie formerly lived in Hong Kong.

COMPULSORY SPENDTHRIFT

"Brewster's Millions," Jack Buchanan's latest picture, which is showing at the King's Theatre should appeal strongly to the harassed business man who spends his days trying to make enough money to keep the wolf from the door and his nights dreaming that his firm has declared a dividend of a hundred per cent.

The plot of "Brewster's Millions," which ran for a year on the West End stage before the war, concerns the difficulties of a young man who in order to inherit a fortune of six million has to spend half a million in six months.

This is not nearly so easy as it sounds, for it means getting rid of the stuff at the rate of $150 an hour for twenty-four hours a day, and one of the methods adopted by the compulsory spendthrift is to establish a business with an enormous, and greatly overpaid staff for the sole purpose of spending money as quickly as possible, an increase of salary every other day, safes are left open so that anyone in need of ready cash may help himself, the Efficiency Department specialises in leaving the lights burning all night, and the highly paid staff of the Information Bureau spends its time refusing to give information to anyone.

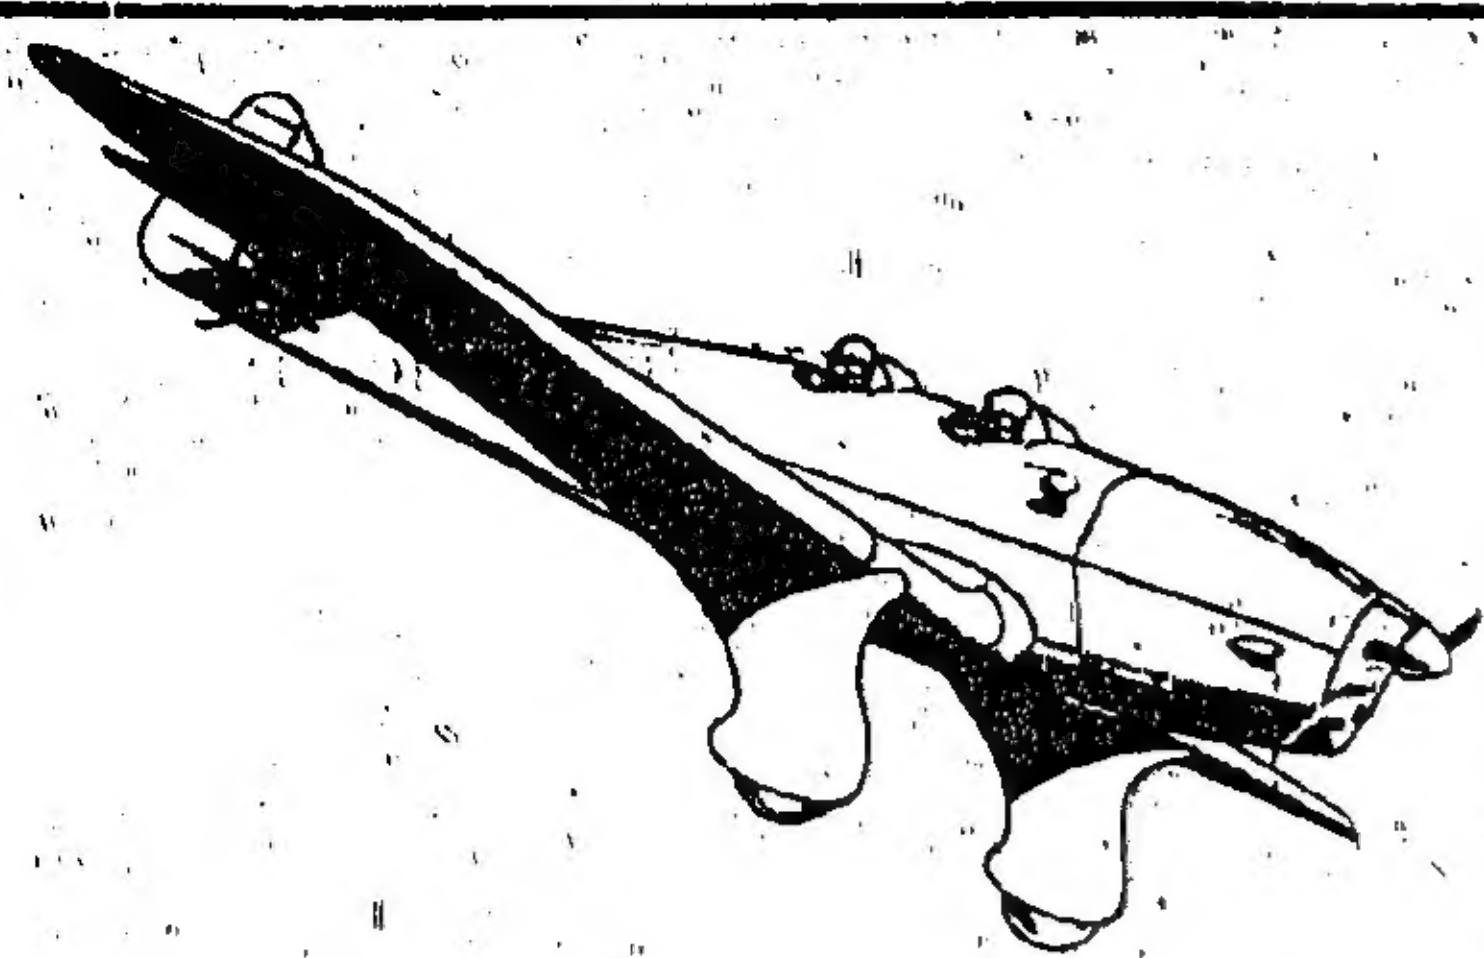

And when Brewster, the hero, backs a "lud" musical show only to find that the critics have praised it handsomely he buys up every copy of the London newspapers and the whole staff tear them up, the only real work they do!

On reflection, it is difficult to say what will be the Tired Business Man's reaction to all this. If he doesn't laugh his head off he will probably die of heart failure.

LOCAL DANCING TALENTS

Miss Capell's Students
Delight

If applause is any criterion of appreciation then the twelfth annual dancing display by Miss Violet Capell and her pupils was an immense success judging from the unstinted applause accorded to a varied programme yesterday at the King's Theatre by an appreciative audience. The Theatre was literally packed to capacity and both young and old who were present were in unison that the display was the best yet seen. The tiny tots in their coloured costumes and the elder pupils in their more staid frocks delighted the audience with their every turn. The numerous items were all well received and it would be invidious to single out special mention but a word of praise is not amiss in the case of Miss Helene Bonenfant who almost drew the house down with her three turns—the "Balloon" dance, "Dance Russ" and the "Tarantella." Her executions in these dances, the movements and everything that went with the dances were all well executed and were well liked. The other elder pupils all showed the same qualifications and the younger ones more than made up with zest what they actually lacked in experience.

"THE BALLOON DANCE"

The programme opened with a song and dance entitled "Lazy-bones" in which the tiny tots delighted. Miss Helene Bonenfant then went on with her "Balloon" dance and was deservedly applauded. The "Flower Ballet" was one of the items that caught the eye and the soloist Miss Peggy Springer was seen at her best. An Ensemble entitled "Peter Pan" was amusing as it was entertaining and a more serious aspect of the programme then came on with a group dance in the "Black and White" in which the elder girls once more entertained the audience with their clever interpretations.

The little Misses Ahwee obliged with a "Fancy Dance" and this was enthusiastically received. Then followed the "Acrobatic Dance" the "Dance Russ" by Miss Helene Bonenfant and an "Aeroplane Dance" by the kiddies followed with an excellent fare in the ensemble "Stars" in which the girls were all well applauded. This brought the first half of the programme to a close and the second half opened with the "Dutch Dance" by the younger pupils after which Miss Helene Bonenfant delighted the audience once again with the "Tarantella." Little Miss Claire Van Wylick was good in the "Birth of a Rose" and she was given her share of the applause.

TOE DANCING

The Misses Ho came next with the "Carnival" and showed that they were no mean exponents of the art of toe dancing. They revealed that they have mastered the intricate steps of it and were given a good reception. "Dainty Maidens" then followed and the group dance "Dice" with the Misses A. Bradbury, J. Bradbury, H. Ho, M. Muiro, P. Woods, P. Springer very nearly brought the house down with their tap dancing.

The programme was brought to a close with the finale in which the entire cast took part. Miss Violet Capell herself obliged with a solo.

Taking everything into consideration the display was a success in every way. It showed what expert tuition can do and many of the participants last night showed that they were no novices of the art of dancing. Miss Violet Capell is to be heartily congratulated in being able to offer such good entertainment and the same goes to those that took part in the display.—O.M.O.

Ng Cheung (24) an odd job coole, was sentenced to three months' hard labour by the Kowloon Magistrate, Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones on a charge of having aided and abetted certain persons in custody in stealing money and various articles from a dwelling house.

The articles which formed the charges against the first defendant included three children's bangles, a gold finger ring, two pairs of trousers, a jacket, a service badge, a silver tongue scraper attached to a chain of five-cent pieces, 40 silver dollars 100 five-cent pieces, 550 ten-cent pieces and 370 Chinese 20-cent pieces belonging to Chan Kan, married woman.

SHIP MASTER & OWNER IN LITIGATION

Damages Claimed for Alleged Wrongful Dismissal

Hearing was continued yesterday before the Puisse Judge, Mr. Justice R. E. Lidsell at the Summary Court in the action brought by Capt. A. H. Brown, master mariner, claiming $1,000, in lieu of three months' salary from the Yuen On Steamship Co., Ltd.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the plaintiff while Mr. F. G. Nigel was for the defendant Co.

At the previous hearing, Mr. Nigel asked leave to amend the date of the alleged incident leading up to the dismissal.

At yesterday's hearing, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, general manager of the defendant company, on being cross-examined by Mr. Silva stated that the personnel of both the s.s. Kwong Sai and s.s. Kwang Tung were present on New Year's Day in 1934.

Mr. Silva: Do you remember giving Capt. Brown two glasses of champagne on that day?

Hon. Mr. Chau: I don't remember.

You remember whether he had had any drinks at all?—No.

"SIGNED THE PLEDGE"

In view of your previous evidence that you obtained a promise from Capt. Brown that he would not touch a single drink after you have threatened him with dismissal, did he have any drinks on that New Year's day?—I think he didn't. In fact, he was teased by one of the officers that he had promised not to drink again.

The position at that time being according to you, that if he had a single drink he would be liable to dismissal?—Yes.

In reply to further questions, witness said the first time he heard that plaintiff had been overdrinking was in January 1935, two days after he had gone to hospital. After he had obtained the full facts of the case, he decided to dismiss Capt. Brown. Witness admitted that he was wrong when he stated in his evidence that Capt. Brown went to hospital in April, 1934, suffering from the effects of alcohol. It was on January, 1935.

Mr. Silva: Four other persons have also stated that it was in April. Can you explain why they all should have made the same mistake?

Witness: No, I don't know whether they obtained this information from the same source as I or not. I was informed by my clerk that Capt. Brown went to hospital in April and I thought that it was on that occasion he suffered from the effects of alcohol.

NOT A MADE UP STORY

Is it correct to suggest that there was a conference by all the witnesses for the defence at which it was stated that plaintiff went to hospital in April?—There was no conference. It is not a made-up story. All are true facts.

Was it a fact that during this period of ten years when plaintiff was in your employ he did not have a holiday?—I cannot say. The letter of dismissal was dated January 3 this year, at about Sabbar Mohamed, a 35-year-old filter's apprentice, was brought before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday charged with stealing eight pounds of brass filings from the Kowloon Docks on Tuesday. He was remanded for 24 hours in police custody.

Sergeant Banks stated that defendant was stopped on the dock ferry by Sergeant H. Marriott, of the Kowloon Dock police. He was searched and six packets of the filings were found in his possession.

Chan So (24) licensed driver appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy charged on several counts relating to traffic offences. He was alleged to have driven along Connaught Road, West on Tuesday night at a speed of 60 miles per hour and then crashed into a hawker's stall in Central Street, injuring a man and a girl slightly.

On the charge of dangerous driving, the defendant was sentenced to two months' hard labour. On the other two charges he was fined $10 or, in default, ten days' consecutive with the prison term. He was also ordered to pay $10 amends to the hawker or undergo a further term of ten days.

Defendant admitted two previous convictions for dangerous driving.

LOCAL CHINESE CHAMBER

Holds Monthly Meeting

The monthly committee meeting of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce was held at the Chamber Headquarters yesterday afternoon, when owing to the indisposition of the Chairman, Mr. Wong Kwong Tin, the Vice-Chairman, Mr. Li Sing Kuei, took the chair. He was supported by Mr. Au Chak Sum, Hon. Treasurer, and Mr. Chan Ping Au, Hon. Secretary.

Other members present were Messrs. Tang Shu Kie, Mok Kon Sang, Jackman To, Wong Chung Hin, So Chiu, Chiu Chan, Yue, Yeung Shu Cheung, Chiu Kwok Hing, Tang Chi Cheong, Lee Sau Nam, Chow Sing Chi, Shuen Po, Lam Wah Lap, Fung Shuen Po, Mok Lin, Fung Ping Fan, Kwok Yau Ting, Fung Koon Man, Ko Chung Nam, Yue Cheuk Sang, Lau King Ching, Kwan Wan Pak, Chan Kim Tung, Chan Kam Por, Kwok Yau Ting, Cheong Lan Chow, Yip Lan Chuen, Dr. Lee Ping Sum and many representatives of the various business associations and guilds.

LOWER TELEPHONE RATES

Referring to the letter sent to the Chamber by the Chairman, Mr. Wong Kwong Tin, stating that on account of falling health, he was unable to discharge his duties as chairman, it was decided that the Vice-Chairman, Mr. Li Sing Kuei, should look after all the business affairs of the Chamber during the Chairman's absence.

With regard to the letters received from the different boat and sampans builders of 'Sat-wan-ho' and 'Shau-ki-wan' requesting the Chamber to urge the Hong Kong Telephone Company Limited to reduce their charges in line with the city districts, so as to lighten the burden of their subscribers, it was decided by the Committee that a letter be sent to the said Company for favourable consideration.

During the meeting, it was also announced that the 12th annual trade conference of the Pacific will be held at Honolulu from 27th to 30th this month, and it is hoped that many of the local Chinese merchants and manufacturers will be able to participate.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the Secretary declared that during the last few weeks, several new members from the different firms and manufacturers had applied to the Chamber for membership. The applications were passed unanimously by those who were present.

KING'S ROAD INCIDENT

A Dead Chinese And
A Damaged Car

An inquiry was held by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of a Chinese, Ho Fat, aged 29, who was found dead on King's Road near the Tungar Printing Press on October 3, 1935.

The jury empanelled were Messrs.—Myron Simson, C. Bitter and A. F. B. Da Silva.

Traffic Inspector Alexander conducted the case for the Police.

Medical evidence given by Dr. Shaw, was to the effect that on October 3, he performed a post-mortem examination on the body of an unknown Chinese and as a result of his examination he found the cause to death to be due to fracture of the skull and multiple injuries. The number of abrasions made it appear that the man had been dragged along the road, and that the vehicle, if he was actually knocked down by one, could not have been travelling very fast.

WHAT THE POLICE FOUND

In giving evidence Lance Sgt. Scott said that at 2.20 a.m. on October 3, on a report of a Chinese constable, he went to King's Road, and there he saw the body of a Chinese lying on the road side. He had the body brought to the public mortuary and at 4.30 a.m. together with the Divisional Inspector of Shaikwan, he proceeded to the Lyman Barracks but found no cars there. They then went to a point half a mile from Sheko and saw a Ford Coupe 2 seater, No. 1753, parked on the side of the Road. On approaching the car, the driver got up from a position as if he had been asleep.

Examination of the car revealed that the near side head lamp had no glass, and the rear side tyre of the car was missing.

Witness went on to say that Inspector Alexander questioned the driver of the car, Lt. Robert and in continuation of their inquiries he went with the Divisional Inspector at 10.30 a.m. to Island Road, when they picked up marks on the road that appeared to be of a motor-car with a puncture or without a tyre. They followed the marks which led to the place where they had found Lt. Robert's car that morning. Witness had taken various measurements of the spot where the man was found and the road at that spot was 75ft. 9 in.

At this juncture the case was adjourned.

KNIGHTHOOD FOR C.J.

Sir Atholl Macgregor.—It gives me the very greatest pleasure to present to you your Honour in the name of His Majesty The King the Letters Patent of the Knighthood which His Majesty has been pleased to confer on you. Your appointment to the most responsible office of Chief Justice of this Colony is in itself a proof of the high esteem in which your distinguished service elsewhere is held. Hong Kong reaps the full benefit of your many years of service for the Empire in Nigeria, Trinidad and Kenya and we who have come to know you during the past two years have quickly realized the rich learning, the broad vision and the wide experience which you bring to the discharge of your important duties. To your legal wisdom you have added the power of endearing yourself to all with whom you come in contact. You have not restricted yourself to your official duties but, ably supported by Lady Macgregor, you have entered fully into the life and interests of the Colony and have thereby established for yourself and Lady Macgregor, in a remarkably short space of time, a very real place in the affections of all classes of the community. In the name of the Government and on behalf of the people of Hong Kong, I tender to you and Lady Macgregor our warmest congratulations on an honour which has never been more fully earned or more rightly bestowed.

DR. T'AO GETS C.B.E.

Dr. T'ao.—His Majesty The King has been pleased to confer on you the rank of a Commander of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire in recognition of your distinguished services for this Colony and it gives me great pleasure to invest you, in the name of His Majesty, with the Insignia appertaining to that honour.

Your record of public services goes back to the early years of the present century and your interests have covered almost every phase of public life. The great Chinese charities, and in particular the Chinese Public Dispensaries which owe their success largely to your efforts, have received your constant support. Your membership of the Board of Education and of the Court and Council of the University indicate your concern for education in this Colony. The Police Reserve of which you are Honorary Commissioner is largely the fruit of your labours. Your work for the Colony during the great strike was a fine example of personal courage. You have for many years made the Alice Memorial and Affiliated Hospitals your special care.

You were appointed a Justice of the Peace in 1918 and became a member of the Sanitary Board in 1924. In 1929 you were appointed a member of the Legislative Council and the Government places the utmost reliance on your advice, which has always been placed freely at its disposal.

In 1928 you were created an Officer of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire. Your promotion in the Order to the rank of Commander is a further recognition of your unremitting zeal for the good of the Colony and has been received with the utmost satisfaction by all classes of the community. I offer you my warmest congratulations.

MR. BRAGA HONOURED
Mr. Braga.—His Majesty The King has been pleased to appoint you to be an Officer of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire in recognition of your distinguished public service and it gives me great pleasure to invest you, in the name of His Majesty, with the Insignia appertaining to that honour.

Your family has been connected with Hong Kong from its foundation in 1841 and your interests are intimately bound up with the Colony whose prosperity you have always laboured to promote. After a distinguished scholarly career in Hong Kong and Calcutta you first adopted journalism as your profession and for twenty-five years held the responsible position of Reuters Correspondent. You later identified yourself with many important business undertakings in the Colony.

Appointed an unofficial Justice of the Peace in 1919 you became a member of the Sanitary Board in 1927 and in 1929 you were appointed an unofficial member of the Legislative Council. Making the interests of Kowloon and the New Territories your special concern, you have worked with unflinching zeal for their improvement. Your unbounded faith in the Colony's future and your unfailing optimism have been of the greatest value to the community. The Government values highly your enthusiasm for Hong Kong, of which your work for the British Empire is a practical proof.

Yourself a British subject you have worthily represented the interests of the large body of Portuguese who have made Hong Kong their permanent home and the honour which has now been conferred on you will rightly be regarded as a mark of appreciation of the steady and consistent loyalty of the Portuguese community. I offer you my warmest congratulations.

O.B.E. FOR MR. FRANKS

Mr. Franks.—I have much pleasure in investing you in the name of His Majesty The King with the Insignia of an Officer of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire. This honour which His Majesty has been pleased to confer on you is a well merited recognition of your honourable service as Head of the Prison Department of this Colony for many years.

As Superintendent of Prisons since 1920 you have had to deal with many difficult situations, arising chiefly from the lack of accommodation and of modern facilities in the existing prison buildings. Combining a firm sense of discipline with a very human outlook you have dealt successfully with all difficulties and your service has received the highest approbation from the Government. You have introduced many improvements in our prison system and to you more than to any other must be attributed the decision of the Government to erect a new prison on the most modern lines in a country district. Much of the work connected with the erection of the new goal has fallen on your shoulders and it is my earnest hope that you will be

Managed Currency Suggested

Sir.—As a result of the adoption by China of a managed currency, the predominant problem facing Hong Kong is whether we should do likewise.

No doubt, the powers that be, who guide our destinies, have decided by now what action to take or not to take, as it is certainly rather late in the day to debate the merits of sound money or the advantages of a low exchange.

My concern therefore is, not so much whether we ought to follow in the footsteps of China, but if we do so, will the authorities bear in mind that the silver lying in the vaults of banks or deposited elsewhere as backing for banknotes circulating in this Colony, does not belong to the banks themselves but to the holders of those banknotes? There is already a tendency on the part of some bankers to overlook this, hence at the present rate of exchange, we are being offered only 20 pence an ounce for the silver in our dollar, which is being sold for 20½ pence an ounce in London.

The average man with a little hard earned saving has already suffered enough. Is Government going to stand by and see him suffer more?

Yours, etc.,

OBSERVER.

POPPY DAY APPEAL

Here is another letter received by the Officer's Benevolent Dept. last year:—

"Without this assistance my boy would have received no education beyond his preparatory school. I feel the Department has dispensed not only justice according to its rules but has added a considerable degree of mercy, so long as such kindly consideration is shown for disabled officers' children in genuine need, so long shall we all feel that the moneys entrusted to the Legion are being dispensed in the true spirit of aid when it is genuinely needed."

here to see the completion of your long desired schemes and that you will have the satisfaction of handing over to your successor a department relieved of the serious disabilities which have added so greatly to the burden of your official duties. I offer you my warmest congratulations.

I.S.O. FOR MR. DE SOUZA

Mr. De Souza.—I have much pleasure in investing you in the name of His Majesty The King with the Insignia of a Companion of the Imperial Service Order. This honour which His Majesty has been pleased to confer on you is a well-deserved recognition of your meritorious service in the Junior Clerical Service of this Colony.

You entered the Civil Service of this Government in 1898 in the Public Works Department and in 1913 you were transferred to the Treasury Staff of which you are still a member. You have an unblemished record of nearly forty years of service and you are now the senior member of the Junior Clerical Service. You have won the approbation of all under whom you have served and your career is an object lesson to all your fellow members of the Government Service.

I offer you my warmest congratulations and trust you may long be spared to enjoy this recognition of your local and honourable service.

COLOURFUL GARDEN PARTY

Sir Robt. Ho Tung Entertains Congress Men

The foliage and autumn blooms so luxuriant on the Colony's hillside, and the gay dresses of the elite of Hong Kong Society all added to make No. 254 The Peak, the residence of Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung, the scene of a very colourful and highly successful garden party, which was given in honour of the Congressional Delegation who are on their way to the Philippines to attend the inauguration of the Philippine Commonwealth.

Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung were the hosts to a large gathering, which included the Hon. Vice-President of the United States of America, John Nance Garner and Mrs. Garner, the Hon. Speaker of the House of Representatives, Joseph W. Byrnes and Mrs. Byrnes, who arrived in the company of the American Consul-General, Mr. Charles L. Hoover and Mrs. Hoover. After the host and hostess had met their guests in the main hall, the party repaired to the grounds surrounding the residence, where tea and light refreshments were served.

Newsreel reporters both from the M.G.M. and Paramount interests, who are travelling with the congressional delegation, were present at the reception and a number of "shots" were taken, which we understand, in due course will be shown on the local screen. Mr. Chester Bennett, using the R.O.A. apparatus also was present with a movie camera, it being stated that his pictures are for release in China and the U.S.A.

Local residents present included: Major-General and Mrs. F. S. Thackeray, D.S.O., N.C., A.D.C., Col. and Mrs. Harrison, Commodore and Mrs. C. S. Sedgwick, Sir Atholl and Lady Macgregor (Supreme Court), Rt. Rev. Bishop Valorta, Rt. Rev. Bishop Hall, The Hon. Mr. Trotman, The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, The Hon. Mr. and Mrs. C. G. A FINE AND A BOOSTING

Theatre Manager Pays $25

At the Central Magistracy yesterday, Mr. Victor Hugo, Manager of the Oriental Theatre appeared before Mr. Schofield on a summons for causing an obstruction by placing 22 chairs in the north and south gangway of the balcony at 3 p.m. on October 27, during the screening of the film "G Men," and at the time the house was filled to capacity.

Defendant pleaded that he did not consider it was an obstruction.

Mr. J. C. Fitz Henry, Deputy Superintendent of the Fire Brigade prosecuted.

Mr. W. McI Smith, acting station officer in giving evidence said he inspected the theatre on the day in question and saw that the house was full and that there were 15 chairs occupying the space in the gangway. He spoke to defendant about this and he had them removed.

Defendant in the witness stand, stated: "I don't want your Worship to think that the placing of the extra chairs was solely for the purpose of gaining extra revenue. The amount was only $8.40, of which the Government received $1.10, the film company $2.75 and the theatre $2.75. It is only on special occasions that we resort to placing these extra chairs, and on the particular day the theatre was sold out quite early. There were a number of children, some of them accompanied by adults, who came from

DUTABLE GOODS FROM SHIP SIDE

A Government Gazette extraordinary published yesterday empowers the superintendent of imports and exports that during the period from noon on November 1935, to midnight on December 31, to refuse to allow the delivery of dutiable liquors and dutiable tobacco for local use from ship side or warehouse on payment of duty in any cases where deliveries are demanded of amounts exceeding the deliveries which appear to the superintendent to be reasonable in the circumstances.

quite a distance. They were unable to attend the next performance, and asked if I could accommodate them. We have in the theatre a gangway of at least five feet in width and on each side of the theatre we have several large columns projecting at least 12 inches from the wall and it was behind these columns that the chairs were placed. I do not consider this was an obstruction of the gangways. We had 18 inches clear outside the gangway space. I do not consider the space behind the columns is any part of the gangway.

The Magistrate held that the presence of the chairs did cause an obstruction and imposed a fine of $25.

POPULAR THEATRE

Mr. Schofield: It must have been a very popular film they were showing.

Mr. Fitz Henry: This is a popular theatre and good films are always shown. It is not as though they were trying to make extra money. They have a good business. There have been no complaints against them before.

CANTON TO SEND DELEGATES

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Nov. 6.
Several leading officials will leave here during the week-end for Nanking to attend the Fifth National Congress of the Kuomintang, as the local opposition to that gathering is withdrawn through the mediation of Mr. Tai Chi-tao, President of the Examination Yuan, and Mr. Ma Chao-chun, Mayor of Nanking.
Generals Yen Hsi-shan and Feng Yu-hsiang urged Generals Chen Fei-tung and Li Chung-jen to go to Nanking to take part in the Congress, which is to decide on China's foreign relations and other urgent problems. Generals Yen and Feng, once indifferent to Nanking, are now ardent supporters of the Central Authorities.

It is not certain whether Generals Chen and Li will be able to proceed to the capital. If they cannot go, they will send trusted representatives. General Chiang Kai-shek, Chairman of the Military Affairs, is ready to compromise with the South-west and has made himself clear on this point. The object is to secure a united front towards outside menace.

Messrs. Tai and Ma will return to Nanking by air before the end of the week to report to General Chiang Kai-shek.

JAPANESE GENERAL ON TOUR

Canton, Nov. 6.
Lieut. General Toranosuke Hashimoto, former Vice-Minister of War, left here this morning by steamer for Hong Kong en route to Macao on a sightseeing tour.

The Japanese army officer called on all the leading officials here and was entertained at dinner last night. He departed from Canton with a good impression of the wonderful progress of the Union News.

TRIBUTE TO HAAS

Geneva, Nov. 5.
The League Assembly Hall was to-day draped in black for the late Dr. Robert Haas. Friends, diplomats and officials filed the hall to pay last tributes to the former Director of Communications of the League's Transit Section.

M. Avenol, Secretary-General of the League, in a short address, alluded to Dr. Haas' report on China, which, he said, was full of sound reflections and unerring judgment.

The interment will take place in Paris.

MARRIAGE

WOOD-MARR.—On October 30, 1935, at H.B.M. Consulate-General, Shanghai, and afterwards at the Union Church, by the Rev. H. G. Newsham, Annie, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Marr, Alexandria, Dumbartonshire, to John George Wood, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Wood, Dumbarton.

DEATHS

Ma.—On October 30, 1935, Shanghai, Miss Ma Choy Ling, aged 51 years. (Guardian of William J. Cruz).

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

The news received from Peking yesterday about Sino-Japanese relations was certainly disconcerting but not wholly unexpected. We knew all along that the Japanese Military authorities there would take drastic actions to settle the issue once for all.

The recent Chahar Incident was only a feeler, and the Japanese had come to a settlement with the Chinese authorities only to make the case blacker for them in the future. Japanese diplomacy is not so deep as they would have the world believe.

In agreeing to come to a settlement over the Chahar affairs, Japan is now provided with an excuse, and if they were to refuse to accept any reparations which the Chinese may make to them for alleged offences, they think they would be justified in the eyes of the world.

In order to understand the policy of the Japanese Government vis-à-vis China, one must necessarily follow the Japanese attitude from the time that Manchukuo had come into existence. After this puppet state had been set up, the time has now come for Japan to turn her military screw on China.

We see that the Japanese Military Staff has, after the settlement of the Hopel trouble, held an important conference at Dairen to decide on a strong policy towards China. The outline of the decision arrived at includes definite plans to set up North China as an independent state unless the Nanking Government complies with some typically indefinite demands.

Then again the so-called peaceful "push" in June this year, though highly successful, was obviously incomplete. It removed Chinese influence by proscribing the Kuomintang Party from Peking, and also the dismissal of certain officials from the Hopel district.

Having gone so far, the great problem that now faces the Japanese authorities is what exactly shall be done with North China, and to that many answers have been given. The army in Manchukuo, and North China has already announced its preference to set up North China as an independent state on the lines of Manchukuo.

To the obvious case for adding to Japanese prestige and imperial stature is added the more subtle argument that only by setting up several continental powers under Japanese control can Japan hope to stop the advance of Soviet Russia towards the Pacific.

On the other hand, more moderate elements, both in the Army and in civil quarters, would prefer a more cautious policy of economic imperialism only. Significant in this respect was the recent appointment of Mr. Matsuo to the presidency of the South Manchuria Railway, and he may have been given the task of forcing the Nanking Government to sign an agreement bringing North China into the Japan-Manchukuo economic block.

No Distinction To Be Made

Berlin, Nov. 6.
"Herr Hitler's personal assurance that anybody who comes to Germany to take part in the Olympic Games in 1936, whether as competitor or spectator, will be accorded a very warm welcome irrespective of race, nationality or religion, is enough to remove all doubts raised in certain countries that Germany would keep all Olympic rules," Count de Baillet-Latour, told the international pressmen here on Wednesday.

"When the National Socialist regime took power in Germany in 1933, the International Olympic Committee was uncertain whether it would be possible to hold the games in Germany as scheduled, at any rate unless adequate guarantees were forthcoming that the rules would be respected."

"We ourselves have never doubted that all colleagues in Germany would adhere to the rules as loyally as before, but we were faced with the task of convincing the world. Hence, during the last two years, many representatives of international sport visited Germany to make investigations on the spot. Without a single exception everyone after a prolonged stay went away satisfied that all the rules had been scrupulously respected. Therefore the Olympic Committee had no other choice but to leave matters as they were, that is to say, hold the games in Germany as scheduled. This decision was approved by the Committee unanimously."

"Do not think that we would have shrunk from taking the games away from Germany if we had the least doubt of Germany keeping her word. The Olympic Committee is quite independent of any outside authority anywhere in the world."

Answering the pressmen's questions, Count de Baillet-Latour said: "We have been convinced that the Jews have complete freedom to train for the Olympic Games among themselves. That is all the international committee has the right to require. Jews who come to the Olympic Games will be treated with exactly the same courtesy as anybody else."

HEARTY CHEERS FOR THE BRIDE

Brilliant Sunshine Attends Royal Wedding

London, Nov. 6.

Dense crowds thronged the neighbourhood of Hyde Park corner and Constitutional Hill this morning as Lady Alice Scott, drove in a glass coach, accompanied by her brother, the Duke of Buccleuch, to Buckingham Palace where, in the private chapel, her marriage to the King's third son, the Duke of Gloucester, took place in the presence of about 120 guests.

The weather was fine with brilliant sunshine and the bride was greeted with an outburst of cheering, which continued until she reached the Palace gates outside which there was an enormous concourse of people. Those attending the service, which owing to the bride's recent bereavement was shorn of the elaborate ceremonial originally planned, were restricted almost entirely to members of the Royal Family and relatives of the bride.

The bridegroom wore the full dress uniform of a Major of the Tenth Hussars and the King and his other sons were also in military uniform. The bride, whose wedding gown was of oyster pearl satin, was attended by eight bridesmaids, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret, Lady Mary Cambridge, Lady Elizabeth Scott, Lady Angela Scott, Miss Moira Scott, Miss Ann Hawkins and Miss Claire Phipps.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishop of London and Precentor of Chancery Royal, officiated at the service.

At the conclusion of the service, the bride and bridegroom walked through the Palace with the King and Queen and other members of the Royal Family to appear on the balcony in front of Buckingham Palace where they were greeted with tremendous enthusiasm.

The wedding breakfast at which the King was to propose the only toast, that of the health of the bride and bridegroom, followed, and this afternoon the Duke and his bride will drive in an open carriage with an escort of Household Cavalry to St. Pancras Station where a special train will carry them to Kettering to spend the honeymoon at Boughton House.

ENTHUSIASTIC GREETINGS
London, Nov. 6.
The Royal wedding to-day was favoured with mild sunny weather. The ceremony took place at 11.30 a.m. in the private chapel at Buckingham Palace which was prettily decorated with white lilies, lilacs and chrysanthemums.

Large crowds of interested spectators began to gather very early and all approaches to Buckingham Palace were packed hours before the ceremony.

The first guests began to arrive at 10.30 a.m. and each arrival was greeted by cheers.

The bride left her home in Grosvenor Place at 11.15 and drove to the Palace in a coach escorted by a body of police mounted on grey horses.

Smiling happily, Lady Alice was greeted with enthusiasm by thousands of spectators who thronged the streets leading to the Palace.

ON THE BALCONY
After signing the register, the bride and bridegroom appeared on the balcony of the Palace and was enthusiastically cheered by thousands who crowded the precincts of the Palace.

There were more cheers when the King, bareheaded with a blue garter across his scarlet field Marshal's uniform, and the Queen in a blue and gold gown appeared on the balcony. They were later joined by Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret and other members of the Royal Family.

PRESENTS ON VIEW
London, Nov. 5.
Nearly 3,000 people attended the reception at St. James's Palace this afternoon, when the royal wedding presents were on view. The Duke of Gloucester with his fiancée, Lady Alice Scott, drove with the Queen, from Buckingham Palace to St. James's.

On arrival, the Queen, the Duke and Lady Alice walked through the State apartments and afterwards mingled with the guests.

SUBSEQUENT RETREAT REPORTED

Operations Hampered By Heavy Rains

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1891.
Received, November 6, 4.30 p.m.)

Asmara, November 6.

The rainfalls in Tigre Province are continuing with undiminished vehemence and preventing all major troop movements. The Italian Army therefore will hardly be able to resume its advance before Thursday. Troops are utilising the lull in fighting for the repair of the new roads, which have been almost impassable by severe cloudbursts.

In view of the submission of the Sultan of Aussa Province, official quarters here would not be surprised if Ras Imru, Ras Kassa, and possibly also Ras Seyoum, will likewise offer submission, which would open up the roads into the interior of the country for the Italians.

A chieftain of the Agama region south east of Adigrat appeared at the Italian headquarters on Tuesday and made his submission to General De Bono, according to an official announcement here.

The chieftain is stated to have declared that he was placing himself under Italy's protection because he regards the occupation of the province of Tigre as his liberation.

He added, according to an official statement that he had instructed all his headmen to follow his example and had warned them that anyone failing to do so within a certain period would be regarded as a rebel.

Grave disorder is reported to have broken out in Makale.

EMPEROR'S DEPARTURE

Addis Ababa, Nov. 6. No official reports were issued here on Monday on the situation on various fronts. Owing to the scarcity of news from official headquarters obtainable in the capital, a number of foreign newspaper correspondents have left Addis Ababa for Djibouti, Aden and other places.

The remaining correspondents will leave with the Emperor for the headquarters at Dessie during the next few days. The correspondents will make the journey under the protection of the Imperial Guards, but the Abyssinian Government announced that it will not assume any responsibility towards the foreign correspondents, who will be required to submit all letters and telegrams for censorship.

The exact date for the Emperor's departure is not yet known and will be kept a secret till the last moment. The greater part of the Emperor's luggage, however, has already been forwarded to Dessie, while the personal effects of the Crown Prince, who will deputise for the Emperor during the former's absence from the capital, arrived at Addis Ababa from Dessie.

There appears to be some doubt whether Abuna, head of the Coptic Church, will accompany the Emperor to Dessie. If it should do so it will be an indication that the situation on the front is considered perfectly satisfactory by official quarters here.

BOMB FOUND IN PALACE

Attempt On Life Of Negus

Rome, Nov. 5.

An attempt has been made on the life of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, according to the Asmara correspondent of "Tribuna." The report cannot be confirmed.

It is stated that a bomb was found in the Emperor's palace at Addis Ababa.

The message adds that this news is clearly connected with the order given by the Ethiopian police to various outposts to arrest an American negro who is supposed to have been identified as the would-be assassin.

The report was received in Asmara from a caravan from Addis Ababa and was also heard in Djibouti by the same means.

ANGLO-ITALIAN DISCUSSION

Rome, Nov. 5.

Signor Benito Mussolini and Sir Eric Drummond, the British Ambassador to Rome, today discussed the situation in the Mediterranean.

Their conversations were a continuation of a previous interview and proved inconclusive.

Responsible sources claim that Signor Mussolini reminded the British Ambassador of the withdrawal of Italian troops from Libya and that Sir Eric expressed the British Government's appreciation.

However, Sir Eric pointed out that the Italian troops remaining in Libya far exceeded the usual forces maintained in that territory and the British Government did not yet consider the situation warranted a reduction of the British naval forces in the Mediterranean, whose presence was purely precautionary.

FRANCO-ITALIAN TRADE INTERRUPTION

Peasants Issue Warning To Premier Laval

Paris, Nov. 6.

The rupture of trade relations between France and Italy will have disastrous consequences, particularly for the Lyons district which always has been in close commercial intercourse with Italy, and the Peasants' association of that most important French industrial city have sent a warning to Premier Laval.

In a letter sent to the Premier it is pointed out that the problem of the application of sanctions against Italy constitutes a question of life or death for many great commercial firms in Lyons. The letter asks M. Laval to seek ways and means to compensate the firms concerned for the losses which will follow.

"We recognise the authority of the State, but we do not want to become victims of sanctions," concludes the letter in its appeal to the Premier.

EMBARGO EXTENSION

London, Nov. 6.

The Economic Sub-Committee engaged in the co-ordination of Sanctions against Italy at Geneva yesterday adopted the text of a resolution proposed by the Canadian delegation for extending the list of commodities subject to embargo.

The resolution states: It is expedient that the measure of the embargo provided in proposal four should be extended to the following articles as soon as conditions necessary to render this extension effective have been realised: petroleum and its derivatives, by-products and residues, pig-iron, iron and steel, including alloy steels, coal including anthracite, and lignite, coke and their agglomerates as well as fuels derived therefrom.

If the replies received by the committee to this proposal and information at its disposal warrant it, the Committee of Eighteen will propose to the Governments a date for bringing these measures into force.

British Wireless.

SANCTIONS PROBLEM

Geneva, Nov. 5.

Problems of how to prevent products which according to sanctions may not be exported to Italy by countries taking part in the sanctions, but nevertheless reaching Italy via other countries, was discussed on Tuesday session of the Sub-Committee for Transit Questions.

The French proposal was that exports to those countries not participating in sanctions be restricted to the average volume of the exports during the last two years. The British delegation suggested that if considerable augmentation of exports to Italy by non-member states is observed, measures for counteracting this be examined by the Committee of Eighteen. As a compromise a third proposal was put forward that the co-ordinating conference should merely watch for any disproportionate increase in exports from countries participating in the sanctions to those who are not.

No decision, however, has been taken by the Sub-Committee on Tuesday's session. The Sub-Committee therefore went on to discuss the economic questions and adopted the Canadian proposal for an extension of the list of commodities subject to embargo.

The following form "Embargo envisaged by Sanction proposal shall be extended to following products, provided necessary conditions prevail for rendering its extension effective: Petroleum, or its derivatives by production, cast iron, steel including all steel alloys whether cast, forged, rolled drawn, stamped or extended, coal including anthracite, lignite, coke, well fuel derived from them." As soon as replies received from governments to this proposal warrant it, the Committee of Eighteen will suggest a date for their enforcement.

ARMS SHORTAGE FEARS

Berlin, Nov. 5.

Reports alleging that M. Laval and the Foreign Minister, Sir Samuel Hoare, intend to proceed to Rome shortly in order to negotiate directly with Signor Mussolini, are making a deep impression in political and military circles in the British capital of Asmara. A special correspondent of the semi-official German news agency, adding that according to the prevailing views in these circles "incalculable consequences" will result if the diplomatic negotiations will not soon lead to some solution. Competent Italian military circles at Asmara, point out according to a correspondent, the grave dangers which the application of sanctions may have on the supply of arms for the Italian troops, especially in view of the fact that the Abyssinians would be increasingly well furnished with arms and munition.

It is stressed that the lack of arms and munition would greatly hamper the military measures, which in this campaign is assuming an altogether novel character. Another great difficulty is seen in the fact that the Italian military command is unable to ascertain the international and commercial strength of the Abyssinian troops, whereas the Abyssinians appear to be well informed as to the Italian plans.

The Chinese members of the Yunnan-Burma Boundary Commission, accompanied by a retinue of more than 40 persons, left here yesterday morning for Fuhsuan where they will meet the British members of the commission and Col. Iselin, neutral chairman from the League of Nations.

Before the departure of the Chinese members the Yunnan People's Foreign Affairs Association presented to the investigators a number of recommendations concerning the demarcation of the boundary between Yunnan and Burma. The following is a summary of the suggestions:

1-The Salween River should be set as the southern borderline between Yunnan and Burma.

2-The section between the Nanning and Nanchang Rivers should be demarcated as the future Yunnan-Burma boundary line.

3-China should propose for nullification of all documents in dispute.

FRIENDLY RUGGER
Club "A" Beaten

Some scrappy but exciting rugger was witnessed on the Club ground yesterday when the Club "A" fifteen played a Navy "A" team in a friendly encounter, which resulted in the triumph of the sailors by 8 points to 3.

Play began with the home team having most of the attack, but the Naval defence held out stubbornly, until very near the interval, a try was registered by them. This try was, however, unconverted. The whistle for half-time was blown with the score standing at 3 points to nil in favour of the sailors.

Mid-field play was the order at the resumption, with the Club, though being scored against first, putting up a great show to even matters. They were rewarded only after three-quarters of the second half had already been played, when a drop goal was registered. In spite of the sudden reverse, the sailors attacked vigorously and were just in time to

WHIST DRIVES

R.E.O.C.A. Social Activities

The Association held another of its popular Whist Drives in the open air at Wellington Barracks on Monday evening last. A fine evening and a good attendance, 22 tables were filled, helped to make this function like the preceding ones, very successful.

The Prizes, which were presented by Mrs. E. W. Staples, were won in the ladies section by Mrs. Jordan (1st), Mrs. Laurence (2nd), Mrs. Leppard (3rd), Mrs. Holland (4th), and in the men's section the winners were Mr. Jordan (1st), Mr. Jerrard (2nd), Mr. Kayler (3rd), Mr. Woods (4th), Mr. Betts (5th).

After the presentation of the Prizes, refreshments were served, and a very pleasant evening closed with a few hands of Tombola.

The Association will be holding another such function in Wellington Barracks on Monday, November 18, commencing at 8.30 p.m., when it is hoped that as many as possible will attend.

The R.E.O.C.A. will be holding the second of its fortnightly dances at the China Fleet Club Theatre on Saturday, November 9, commencing at 8.30 p.m.

The Dance Band of the 1st Bn. Lincolnshire Regiment will provide the music, and in addition to the usual Spot Prizes, free tickets for the King's Theatre will also be given during the novelty dance numbers.

MAMAK HOCKEY MATCH

In their "A" Division Mamak Tournament encounter yesterday, the Radio Sports Club defeated the Royal Signals by one goal to nil at the Chatham Road ground in a rather poor game.

Playing in his usual form, Gubachan Singh the Colony inter-port centre-forward scored the one and only goal in the early stage of the game.

After this the game became a ding-dong struggle with the Signallers doing all the pressing in their effort to equalise but the Radio effectively crowded their goal from all invasion.

The game in the second half was a repetition of the first with the soldiers doing all the attacking, but A.E.P. Guest at right back broke up many of the Signallers' thrusts.

FRIENDLY HOCKEY

Queen's College Defeated

A friendly hockey match was played between the Union Hockey XI and Queen's College on the Radio Sport Club's ground yesterday evening, when the former side won by two goals to one, after a very keenly contested encounter.

The winners showed very good form indeed, and thoroughly deserved the verdict.

Narajan Singh and R. Rocha were the most successful for the Union winners, each scoring one goal, while Jagjit Singh did best for the Queen's College, scoring one goal.

GOLF AND GOLFERS

This Has Been Thomson's
Year: M'Lean's Problem
For 1936

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

In the last two or three years it has been possible on the completion of all the competitive events to draw up some sort of list indicating in a somewhat necessarily arbitrary manner the relative "placings" of Scottish players. During that same period the name of Jack M'Lean has always appeared at the top.

This year one would have to replace his name by that of Hector Thomson in view of what has taken place during the season's play, only that alteration in the positions would have to be made with a certain amount of reservation.

There is no doubt that Hector Thomson has had a better year than M'Lean in actual results, having won from him both the Scottish Amateur and the Irish Open Amateur titles, but it is well to point out in fairness to the departed leader the circumstances under which he took part all year in competitive golf.

When last season finished he was honoured, worthily, by being appointed a member of the team selected by the Royal and Ancient Club to do a little "missionary" work in Australia, and he fully justified that signal honour by returning as the Australian Open Amateur Champion. That tour lasted the best part of three months, during which time M'Lean played golf—competitive golf, he it noted—almost every day, and while he is definitely of the type of player who requires constant practice to keep him at his peak form, the Australian trip had a reactive effect which was very evident when he got back just in time to start the 1935 season here.

All this is not news, but it is necessary to recapitulate it in order to understand clearly the position of these two outstanding young golfers who are without doubt the two best Scotland has produced for many years.

THE DISTANCE FACTOR

Those who attended the exhibition four ball match in aid of the Outrigger Press Radio Fund at Williamwood on Saturday chiefly to compare the style and stroke production of these two young players must have been impressed by the fact that Thomson did not place his tee shots very far past M'Lean's.

One spectator, who had never watched the pair play together before, came to me rather sharply what I had meant by writing from Portrush (during the Irish Open Amateur Championship) all that "stuff" about Thomson's huge advantage in power. It was rather a difficult question to answer on Saturday, because there were the two players and here were their drives often close together and very far apart.

With Thomson cutting most of his drives, and losing thereby, as every long-handicap man knows to his everlasting sorrow, yards and yards every time, the immense difference between the two was really not evident at all, but it is there, and in championships, unless M'Lean can lengthen his tee shots, will always tell.

Until the advent of Thomson on the scene M'Lean had things much his own way in Scottish amateur circles—and for that matter in England too. On the average championship course in Scotland and England under the whole unusually dry conditions—conditions he enjoyed also in Australia—his comparative shortness has never been a really serious handicap.

CHANGED CIRCUMSTANCES

For all that time he has been almost alone in the ability to play second shots, even long ones with wood, closer to the pin than most of his opponents. Now Thomson, who can do it almost equally well, has come along, and when the two meet on a course of the exceptional length of Portrush or on the average championship course under heavy conditions, he can bring within range of his second shots greens that M'Lean cannot reach with anything, or if he can he has to hit so hard as to lose his famed accuracy.

It would seem then that if M'Lean—even the M'Lean fully recovered next season from the Australian effects—is to meet the big challenge of Thomson he will have to put that extra 15 yards on his drive.

For him it must be a very difficult problem. In the past his rather unorthodox short, quick swing has brought magnificent results, but will it meet the new conditions he has to face? Probably not. Recently he has been experimenting with whippy shafts, but as Jones found, the whole machinery of the swing is apt to go wrong.

Actually, at the present time, he would appear to be getting the absolute maximum from his swing, because he does not hit any harder or bring the club-head through any faster than he does. But if assiduous study and constant practice have any reward M'Lean will reap it, for there is for there is no more conscientious student of the game than he.

And if it should happen that that extra distance comes to him, one may look forward with very keen interest to next season's struggle between the two for leadership. M'Lean has two bad knocks to reverse and a place in the Walker Cup team to play for, while Thomson with the Walker Cup team a big ambition has much the same enthusiasm as his rival for the 1936 Scottish, Irish, and dare one say it?—the British Amateur Championship.

FIGURATIVELY SPEAKING

An earlier reference to M'Lean second shots finishing on the average closer to the hole than those of most of his opponents brings to mind an interesting method of golf reporting which was adopted by an enterprising Australian writer in the "Melbourne Herald" when he was describing the match in the second round of the Australian Championship between Mrs. J. B. Walker, Troon the ultimate winner, Greenless.

He tabulates the general summing-up of the match in this manner:—

Nearer to pin with up-approaches 11 2
Shots into bunkers 3 7
Shots off the line through green 5 9

That scheme suggests in a glance just why Mrs. Walker won by 4 and 2, certainly, but surely golf reduced to such bald statistics would lose a lot of its interest.

MELBOURNE CUP WON
BY MARABOU

Flemington, Nov. 8.

Marabou won the Melbourne Cup, Australian turf classic, today.

Sarcherie was second, two lengths from the leader, and Sylvan Dale was third, a length back.

Peter Pan failed to win the race for the third year in succession, and finished sixteenth in a field of twenty-two.

The betting: Marabou, 9/8, Sarcherie, 3/1, Sylvan Dale, 15/1. The time was three minutes 23 3/4 seconds.

SPEECH DAY AT WANTSAL SCHOOL

"Town Life Only Artificial" Advises Mr. Sayer

Advice to the students not to forsake the country life after leaving school because town life was only artificial was made to the students of the Wantsal Government School by Mr. G. R. Sayer, the Director of Education, when he presented prizes to the students yesterday at the Annual Speech Day of the School.

The Headmaster, Mr. G. W. Reeve in his report stated that there was no marked difference in this year's report compared to the previous year. He stated that the presence of the Director of Education in a humble school like Wantsal was encouragement enough and he and the school were grateful to him for coming that day.

Continuing Mr. Reeve said:

Since my report of last year there have been no changes of importance, but the school building has taken on a new lease of life and presents a more pleasing appearance both outside and in since its renovation.

The M.O.E. made a thorough inspection of all new boys soon after the new school year began. The result was very much the same as before; more than 20 per cent were suffering from some form of eye infection or defect. During the year an increasing number of boys went to the Government doctor instead of elsewhere for medical treatment showing a growing confidence in the medical facilities provided. The average attendance for the year, which was 98 per cent, reflects a standard of good health in the school.

GAMES

This year it has been possible to arrange for all boys to play games at least once a week (unless physically unfit), the difference being that hitherto only boys who could play took part in games, now all boys are given an opportunity to learn and for this purpose organized games have been arranged. The aim is not so much to produce good players, although it is hoped such will be the case, but to produce good physique and good health. My belief is that an average boy who takes a normal amount of exercise is able to study with greater energy and keenness than the boy who takes little or none and is able to learn more in the same time than the other boy. This has actually been proved by experiment in which two classes did exactly the same work, one class doing one hour less each day, which was devoted to games, while the other class continued. At the end of a specified time an examination was given, when it was found that more boys passed who had played games and worked one hour less daily, than those who had not played games. It would be unwise to stress this too much, and to imagine that two hours less per day would double the difference!

Mr. Reeve then went on speaking about the close connection between physical training and games, and said that unfortunately it has not been possible to arrange for any regular training throughout the school, although he had hoped when he mentioned it a year ago, that it would.

The review of a year's work was gone into in details.

AIM AND METHOD

Continuing he said:—One way of regarding the aim of the school is that it is the gradual widening of a boy's interests. The extent may be roughly measured by the school's programme of work. This point of view directs attention and lively concentration on the best ways of lessening the gap between what a boy knows and what is known to civilization. This may be done by provoking him to think upon the various ideas reflected in the different classrooms day by day. By provoking him, I mean stirring him up by any lively means to wrestle with the matter in hand and enjoying it. It means creating activity on the boys part and this can only be done to the average boy by stimulating his interest and continuing to stimulate it from day to day. It follows that interest and thought are the two keywords of the teacher: to interest a boy and to make him think. This leads me to one or two points which I wish to make in a critical sense, but as a natural observation which must occur to most Headmasters. It can best be illustrated by the comments made some time ago by an Inspector of London Schools:

FACTS NOT ENOUGH

"It is not sufficient to give children the facts and to see that the facts are firmly implanted in their memories. The teacher must create an interest in these facts. In another place he says 'when a child has mastered the mechanical difficulties of reading, books are the best source from which to obtain information, and the function of the oral lesson is largely to elucidate, illustrate and amplify the facts which the child has learnt from books."

I only wish to emphasize the need of more independent reading which can be done by boys under a teacher's guidance, that is books which are additional to those specified in the syllabus; and to call attention to a natural mistake which we all make; to do all the work ourselves instead of sharing it with the class.

THE PRIZE WINNERS

Mr. Sayer before giving away the prizes said that when he was asked to come to the function he was told that he was to talk to the students and not knowing whether the students all understood English well enough he was at a loss to understand whether he was to talk to them in English or Chinese. However, he was assured that the boys understood English enough and if they do not catch on to what he was going to say the teachers he said would be certain to explain it to them.

There was no need for Mr. Reeve to apologise for asking him to give away the prizes at a humble school. He had a partiality for humble schools. Mr. Reeve had stated that the school lacked a real assembly hall and the speaker assured the gathering that an assembly hall was desirable but not essential. The essential things in a school were first the eagerness of the students to learn and secondly the zeal of the teachers to impart knowledge to them. He could find excuses for the teachers sometimes when they try to teach the boys very often meant the going over of old grounds and monotonous subjects but this information was all new to the students who are all trying to go through the path of knowledge.

The boys he said were lucky that the school was in an extremely delightful situation. It was situated in the heart of a town and yet it infringed on a country. This was an immense asset to the school. He advised the boys not to forsake the country life when they leave school as town life was only artificial and the country life which is nature's own has a very invigorating effect on the health of all.

He closed by wishing the school success.

Cheers were called for Mr. Sayer, The Headmaster and Staff and the School.

Princess Elizabeth To Learn History

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 18. An important new stage in her education will begin next week for Princess Elizabeth, after she and her sister return to No. 145, Piccadilly from Scotland.

Princess Elizabeth is to have a tutor to coach her in certain subjects, particularly history.

This will increase the staff of the small Royal "school" to three. A French governess gives lessons to Princess Elizabeth and her classmates twice a week. The curriculum is in charge of the little Princesses' governess, Miss Crawford.

Letter Writing Art

Another development this term is the decision that Princess Margaret should start lessons properly. She is now five years old, and is considered sufficiently forward to attend regular classes.

During her stay in Scotland Princess Elizabeth has made great progress in letter writing. The Duchess of York encourages her daughter in this art.

The little girl's handwriting is excellent, and she gives her friends long accounts of her activities.

Royal Bride's Pearl-White Robe. I have heard more about the final arrangements for Lady Alice Scott's bridal gown.

The pearly white shade is a perfect choice in the traditional heavy satin specially made for her by an English firm. The gown has a very new neckline and long sleeves, and additional dignity will be given to it by the full-length train.

Dresses of the same fabric and tone are the revised decision for the bridesmaids. The frocks of the three child attendants—the little Princesses and Miss Anne Hawkins—are knee-length. Those of the five older bridesmaids will be to the ankles and are on very simple lines.

Attractive headresses are being designed for them and for the child attendants.

All-Blue Ensemble

A new fur collar fashion gives interest to the bride's all-blue going-away outfit. The shade she has chosen has a hint of grey in it.

Velvet will probably be the fabric for both gown and coat. The coat is being trimmed with ermine, dyed in shaded tones to harmonise with the colour scheme. Lady Alice has not yet decided on the shape of her travelling hat, but, it too, is to be blue.

Blue, I learn, is the bride's favourite colour, as it is the Queen's.

STATUE CRASHES TO THE GROUND

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Berlin, Nov. 5. The three-ton statue of the famous German dramatic poet, Schiller, familiar to all visitors to the Berlin Theatre, suffered considerable damage in the course of its removal from the pedestal in the square in front of the theatre on Tuesday, prior to its erection in Schiller's Park.

The life-size marble figure had already when dismounted from its pedestal and was swinging in mid-air when the scaffolding supporting the tackle and block broke, and the statue was crashed ten feet to the ground. The figure fortunately fell more or less on its feet so that the head remained undamaged, but the heavy base split in two, and many parts of the cloak were broken off. Necessary repairs will be carried out and the statue will be erected in the spring in the park named after the famous poet.

UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW

Regius Professor Of Zoology

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

It was officially announced last night that the King has been pleased, on the recommendation of the Secretary of State for Scotland, to approve the appointment of Edward Hindle, Esq., M.A., Sc.D., Ph.D., F.R.S.E., F.L.S., to be Regius Professor of Zoology in the University of Glasgow. In place of Professor John Graham Kerr, resigned.

Dr Hindle, who is a native of Sheffield, was at Cambridge, where he became a Fellow of Magdalene College, and received his scientific education at the Royal College of Science and King's College, London. He also studied at the Institut Pasteur, Paris, and California University.

He is not a mere laboratory zoologist, but is keen on living animals and their ways, and is an enthusiastic member of the Zoological Society of London.

EXPEDITION TO CHINA

Dr Hindle's research work of recent years has lain mainly in the borderland between zoology and medicine, and he may be confidently expected to maintain the intimate relations existing at present in Glasgow University between the Department of Zoology and the Faculty of Medicine.

An accomplished teacher, he held for some years the Chair of Biology in the School of Medicine, Cairo, and he has done much teaching at Cambridge. His book on "Flies in Relation to Disease: Blood-sucking Flies," is one of the best-known text-books on this subject.

Dr Hindle's more technical research work has dealt more particularly with trypanosomes and those obscure organisms, the spirochaetes, so important as pathogenic microbes in man and animals.

Two of his best-known investigations are those on Kala Azar, in which the curative agent Leishmanicidal bears the name of one who was a distinguished graduate of Glasgow University and on the causation of yellow fever.

In connection with the former investigations Dr Hindle carried out a special expedition, under the aegis of the Royal Society, to the interior of China, while as regards yellow fever he became specially well-known by his important work as Beit Fellow in relation to the production of a vaccine potent against the microbe of this disease.

Apart from his own research work, he is noted for his admirable expositions of the present state of knowledge in relation to yellow fever, spirochaetes, leptospirochaetes, etc.

In addition to his visit to China, Dr Hindle has travelled in the United States, Canada, Mexico, North Pacific, North Africa, India, and Japan. During the war he served in France and Palestine from 1914 to 1919.

FORTH ROAD SITE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

The Mackintosh Rock site of the proposed Forth road bridge was yesterday approved unanimously at a conference in Edinburgh of local authorities of the East of Scotland.

Lord Provost Sir William Thomson, Edinburgh, presided, and others present included the Earl of Elgin, as a representative of Fifeshire County Council. Representatives of Midlothian and West Lothian were included, as well as those of the burghs of Kirkcaldy, Dunfermline, Queensferry, and Inverkeithing, and the Forth Conservancy Board.

The conference sat in private for fully an hour.

It was agreed to appoint a deputation to wait upon the Minister of Transport at an early date with purpose to ascertain what amount of Government grant might be secured for the scheme.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE

It is understood that a satisfactory grant is received the local authorities concerned will be within reasonable distance of agreement as to their respective contributions towards the balance of the cost of the bridge, which is estimated at about £3,250,000.

Another conference will discuss the reply given by the Minister of Transport to the deputation.

PARTIES READY FOR NOV. 14

Election Truce May Be Arranged

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

There was confirmation yesterday of the statement in "The Daily Telegraph" that Parliament will be dissolved to-morrow week and that polling in the General Election will take place on Nov. 14.

It will become a matter for discussion between the parties whether an election truce cannot be arranged for Nov. 6, the date of the Royal wedding, and Nov. 11, Armistice Day.

The only doubt that has existed as to whether such an early date as Nov. 14 could be fixed for polling was connected with the application of sanctions against Italy.

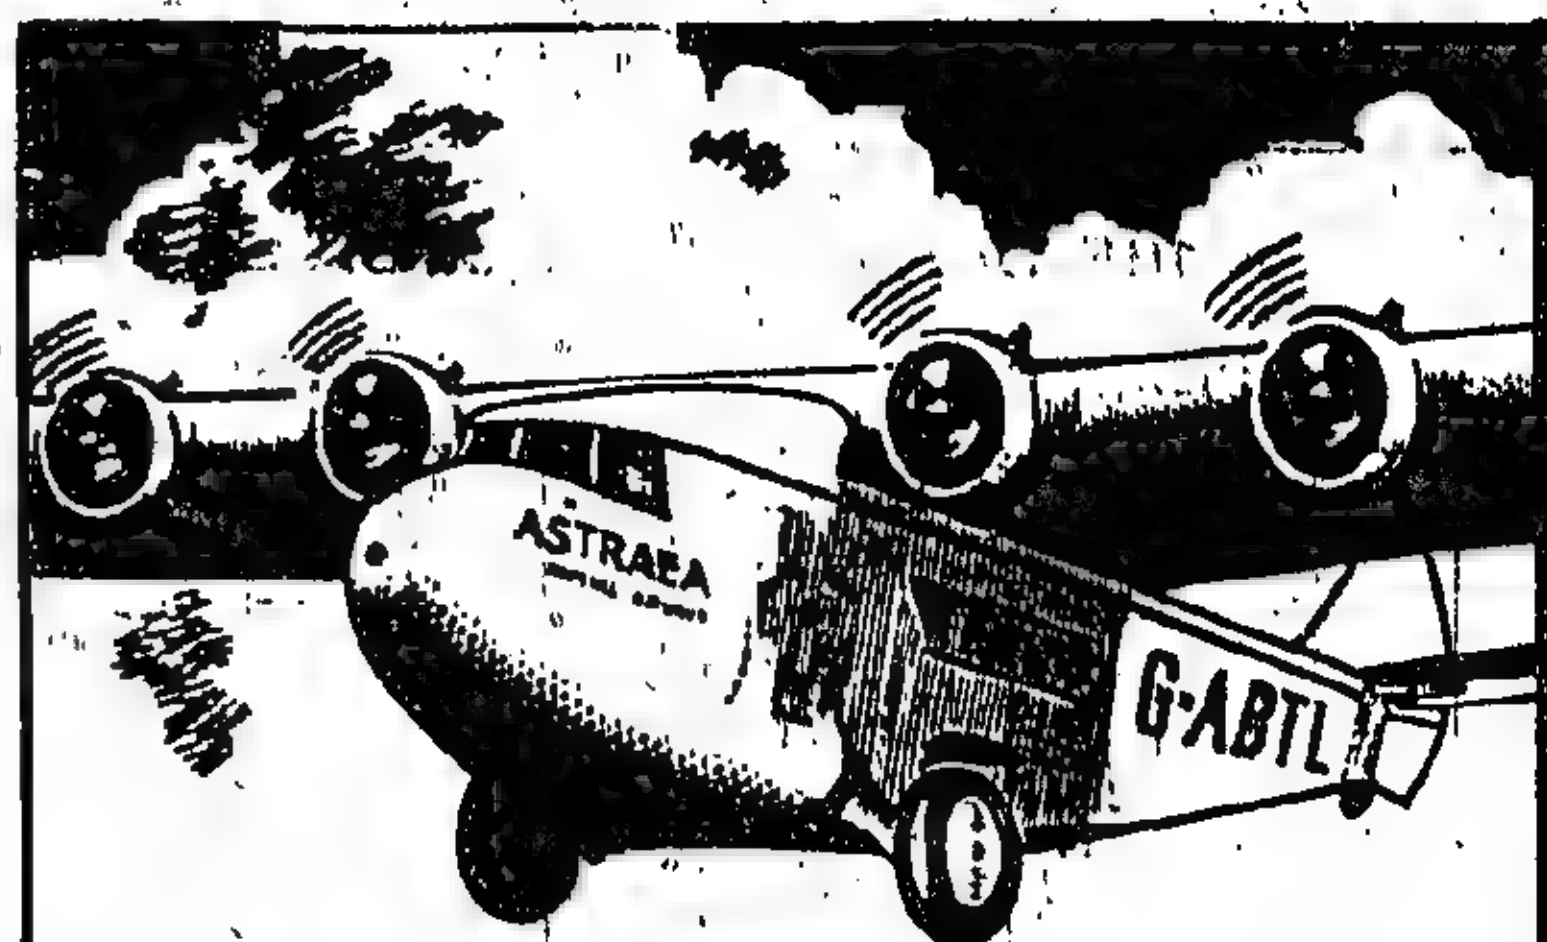

Mr. Baldwin has been advised. I understand, that measures agreed upon at Geneva can, so far as Britain is concerned, be made operative by Order in Council.

In the absence of any necessity for special legislation, Ministers feel that the appeal to the country should take place at the earliest possible moment.

It may be that an announcement in the House of Commons of Mr. Baldwin's decision, taken after consultation with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, Sir John Simon and other Ministerial colleagues, will not be made until to-day week.

At the respective headquarters of the Conservative, Liberal National, and National Labour parties preparations are going forward on the basis of Nov. 14 as the certain date of polling.

It is now about 12 years since this Forth road bridge scheme was proposed. The Dalmeny site was suggested to begin with. Then came the Inchgarvie site scheme, which was, however, abandoned. A Beamerock site was but partially explored, and, until recently, favour was evinced in Fife for the Rosyth-Hopetoun site, which has been partly surveyed.

HONDURAS FLOOD DISASTER

Believed to be Worst in History
70 Lose Lives

Tegucigalpa, Oct. 30.
Seventy people lost their lives yesterday in what is believed to be the most disastrous flood in the history of Honduras, when the Aguan River, swollen by recent rains, inundated the Trujillo region.

A large number of villages and banana groves are under water and damages are estimated at not less than U.S. $6,000,000.—Havas.

CABLE SHIP RUNS AGROUND

Considerable Damage Believed

News was received in Hong Kong yesterday of the stranding of the cable ship "The Cable," owned by the Eastern Extension Australasia and China Telegraph Company Limited, on an uncharted rock, near the Cape St. James on the coast of French Indo-China.

It is reported that the tug Henry Keswick of the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company left Hong Kong for the ship carrying with her salvaging equipment and a crew of six Europeans and 89 Chinese.

"The Cable" is a steel steamer equipped for laying and repairing cables, and visited Hong Kong some months ago. She has a tonnage of 1,534 tons. Built in 1924, she has a length of 238 feet. The ship was engaged in repair work near the coast, when she struck an uncharted rock. The Cable Company in Hong Kong stated that they believed the damaged done to be rather considerable.

FREIGHT WAR BREWING

Alleged secret Rebating By German Lines

New York, Oct. 30.

A trans Atlantic freight war brewed to-day as the Black Diamond Line resigned from the North Atlantic rate conference, preparatory to cutting rates on carriage of freight.

The Black Diamond Line intends to reduce its charges on the grounds that German Lines have been secretly rebating to American exporters 15 to 25 per cent. of the rates charged.

ARCTIC GEESSE SAVED

Niagara Falls, Oct. 28.

After 24 hours of frantic but fruitless attempts to escape the whirlwind caresses of the Niagara river, the 10,000 Arctic geese whose plight attracted considerable public attention yesterday, were liberated to-day. Hunters on both the American and Canadian sides of the river were permitted to bombard the geese. The noise frightened the birds and forced them to fly overland, which they had refused to do previously, and the danger of their falling to death over the falls was removed.
